BANDS

The Eisenhower Band under the direction of Mr. William Herbst, made its first appearance of the year at the Central Washington State Fair with an outdoor concert. Executing complicated marching formations with precise timing, the band presented half time maneuvers at the football games. Participating in the W.S.U.'s annual Band Day, the band made the trip to Pullman to compete in the contest. In February, the Davis and Eisenhower bands combined to present a concert, featuring guest artist Rapheal Mendez, the famous trumpet player. Spring activities for the band included presenting the annual spring concert and featuring music at the Commencement exercises.

The Cadet band participated in several parades this past year. Opening with the Labor Day Parade, they played in the Balloon Parade, the Memorial Day Parade and terminated the year by traveling to Portland to take part in the Rose Parade.

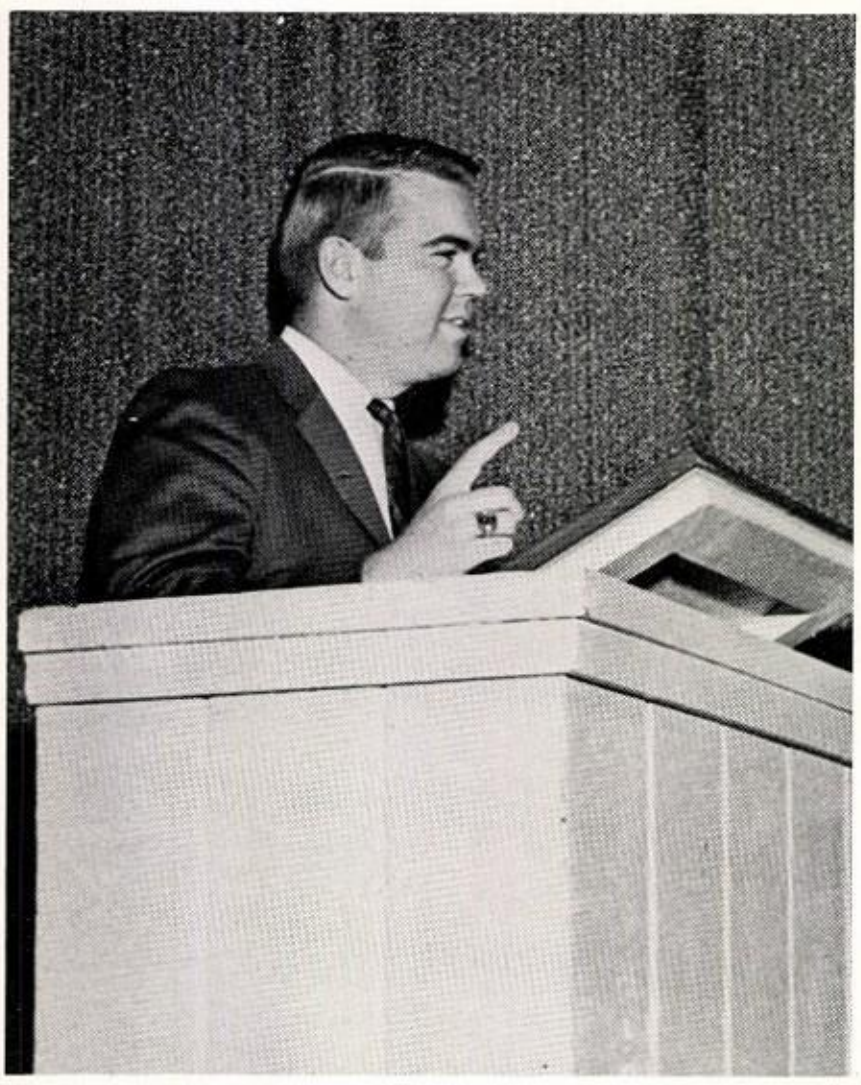
STUDENTS LEARN PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF GOVERNMENT

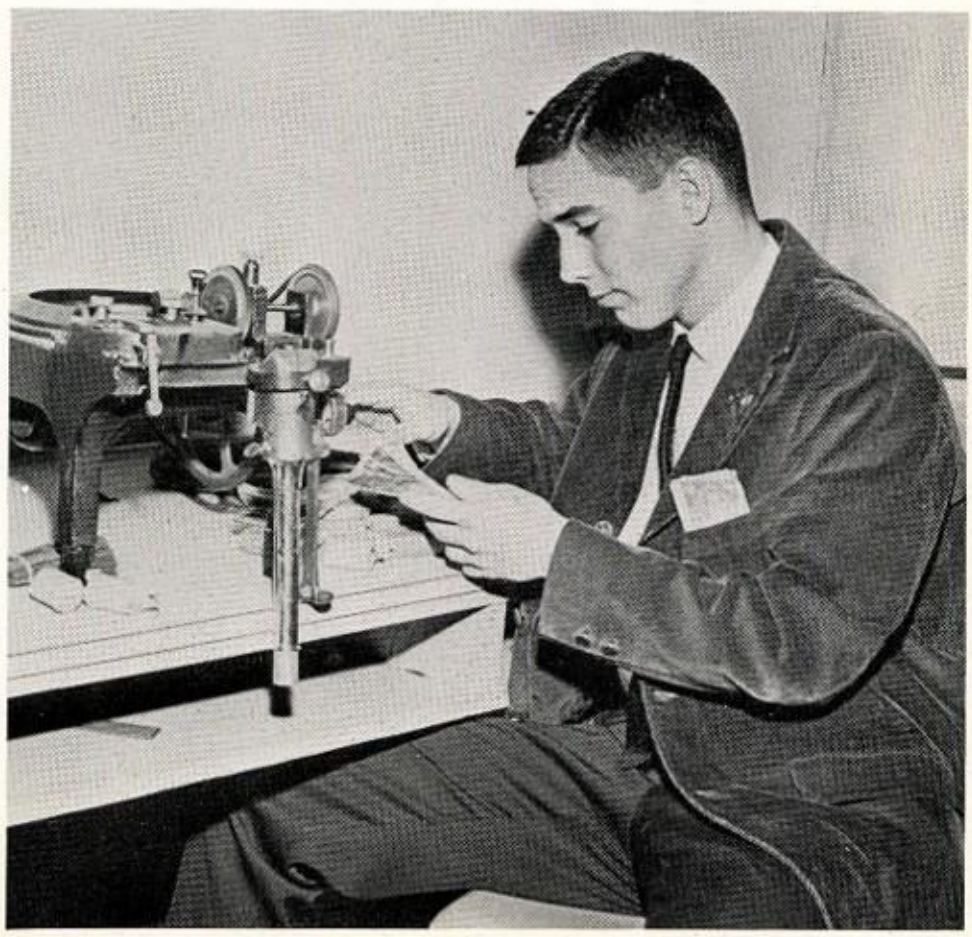
STUDENT LIFE at Eisenhower is governed by the Cabinet, composed of four elected officers and six appointed commissioners, and by the Senate, which is made up of homeroom representatives and the presidents of all clubs and organizations.

USE President Stu Weber, gavel in hand, led numerous Cabinet meetings and assemblies.



Bill Eyman, as president of the Senate, conducted Student Council meetings.

As treasurer, Tom Atwood's big job was to count money.

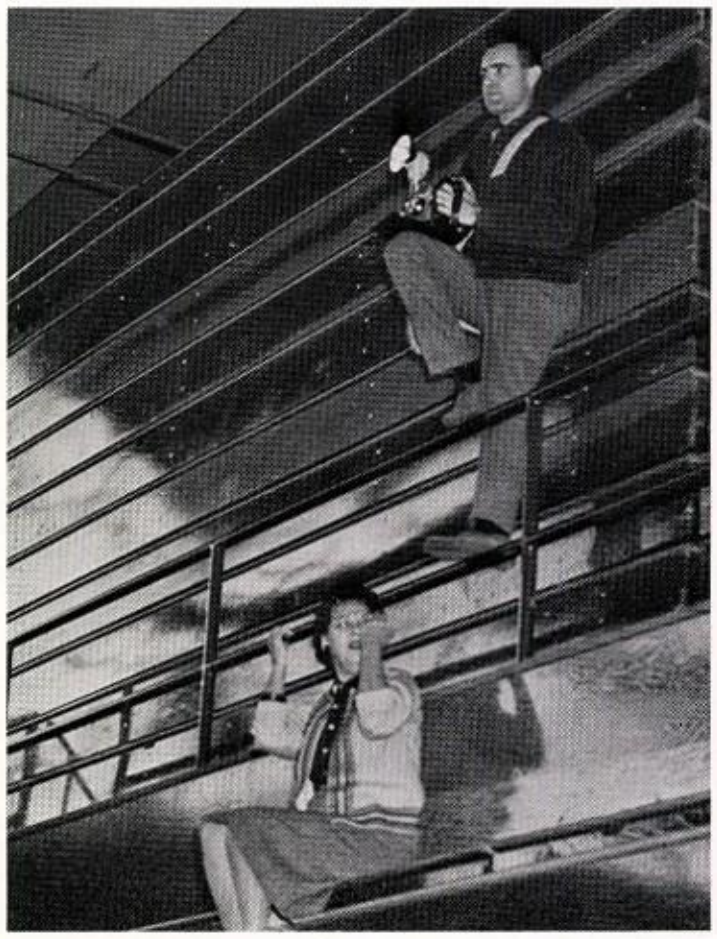


REVEILLE STAFF

Ann Hislop, editor, and Lois McDonald, assistant editor, spent many mornings checking layouts.

Senior members Bob Udell, Karen Pearson, Howard Wises, and Malcolm Ulrich inspected the end sheet designs prior to mailing.

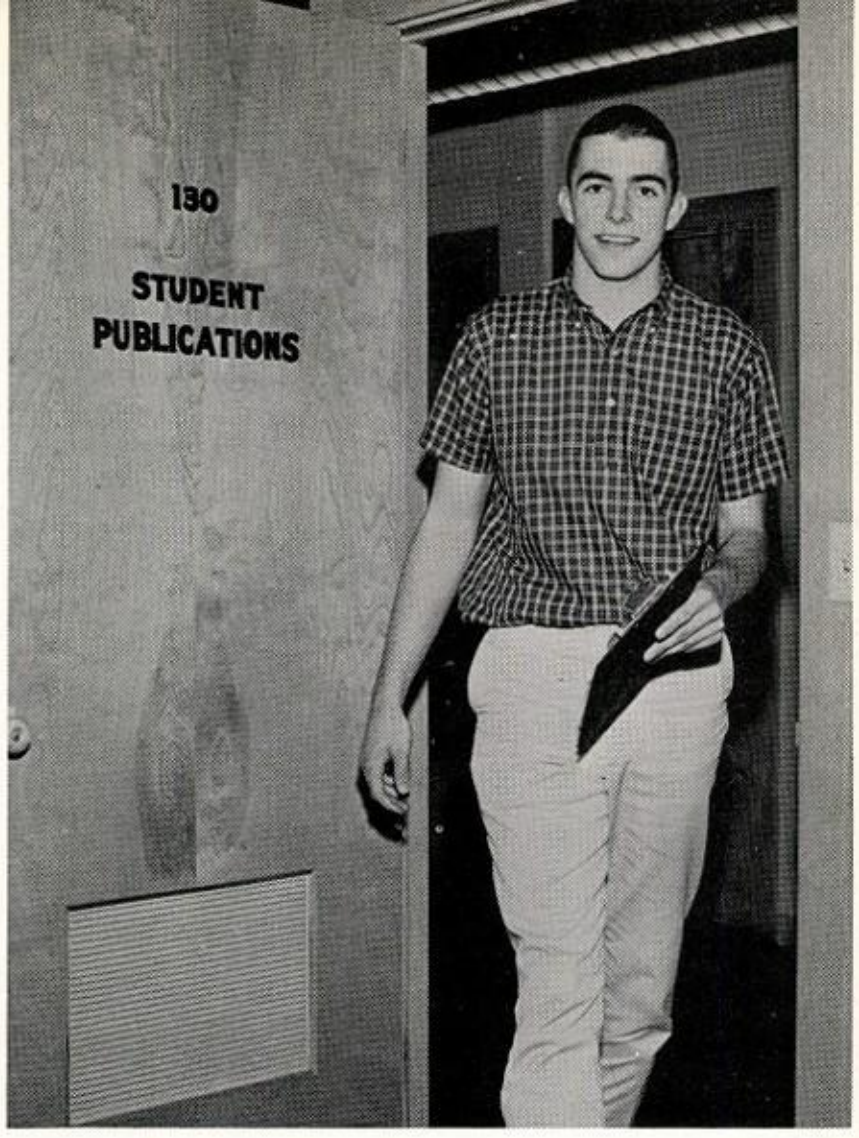
New junior members Mata Hudson, Carol Niles, Ruth Thiessen, Mary Williams, Kathy Nutley, Laurie Cowin, Richard Brewer, and Jeff Leigh proofed all triplicates before each mailing.



Caught in the act of taking the drill team picture were Mrs. Lippert, advisor, and Ken Whitmire, professional photographer.

The new 1964 editor, Jeff Leigh, taking advice from an old hand, Howard Wiese.

Mrs. Bailey has acted as advisor of the Five Star Journal for the past five years.



Dave Sinclair, editor for Volume VI of the Five Star Journal, kept the staff going with his ready smile.

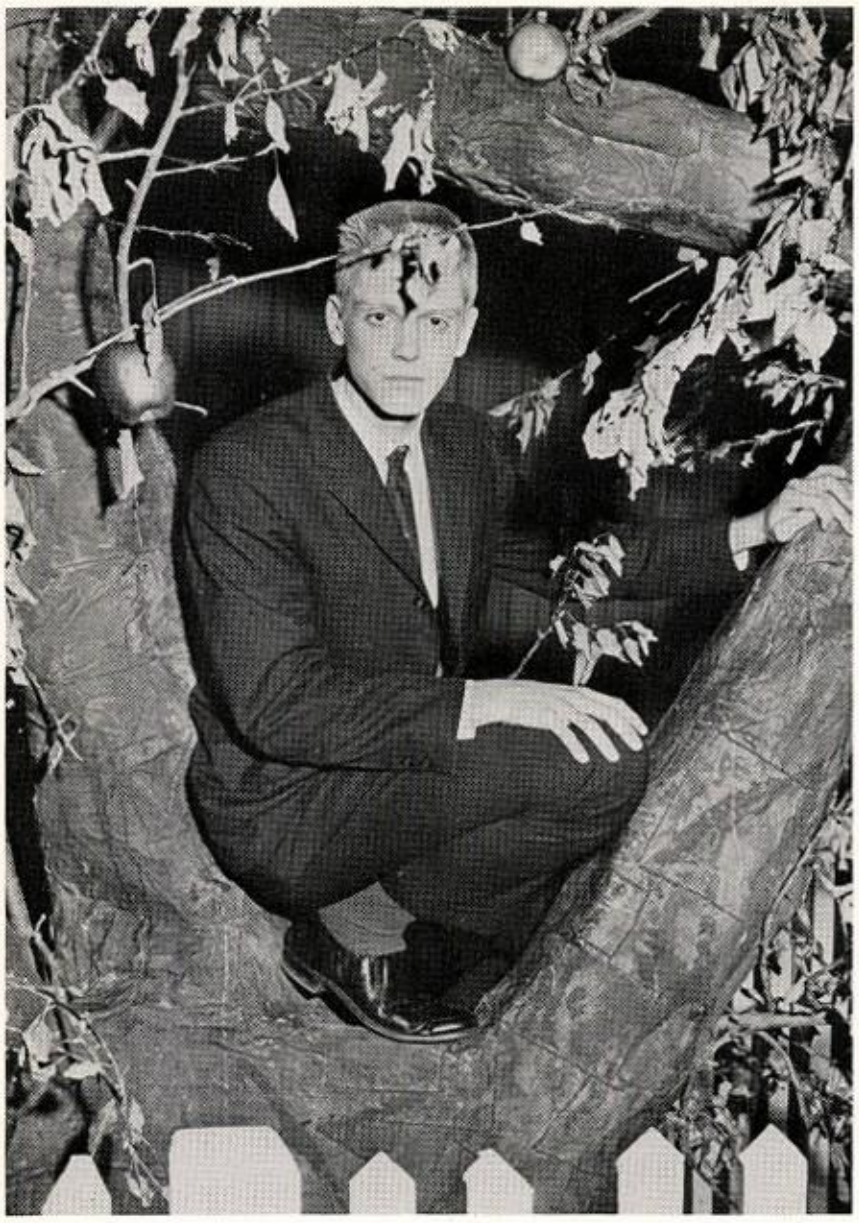
FIVE STAR JOURNAL

New reporters this year were Sue Kent, Malcolm McDonald, Marji Sturgis, Cindy Ulrich, Kathy Pickard, Cynithe Ulness, and Margaret Wick.



Death, portrayed by Nick Cooper, observed the action from the apple tree.

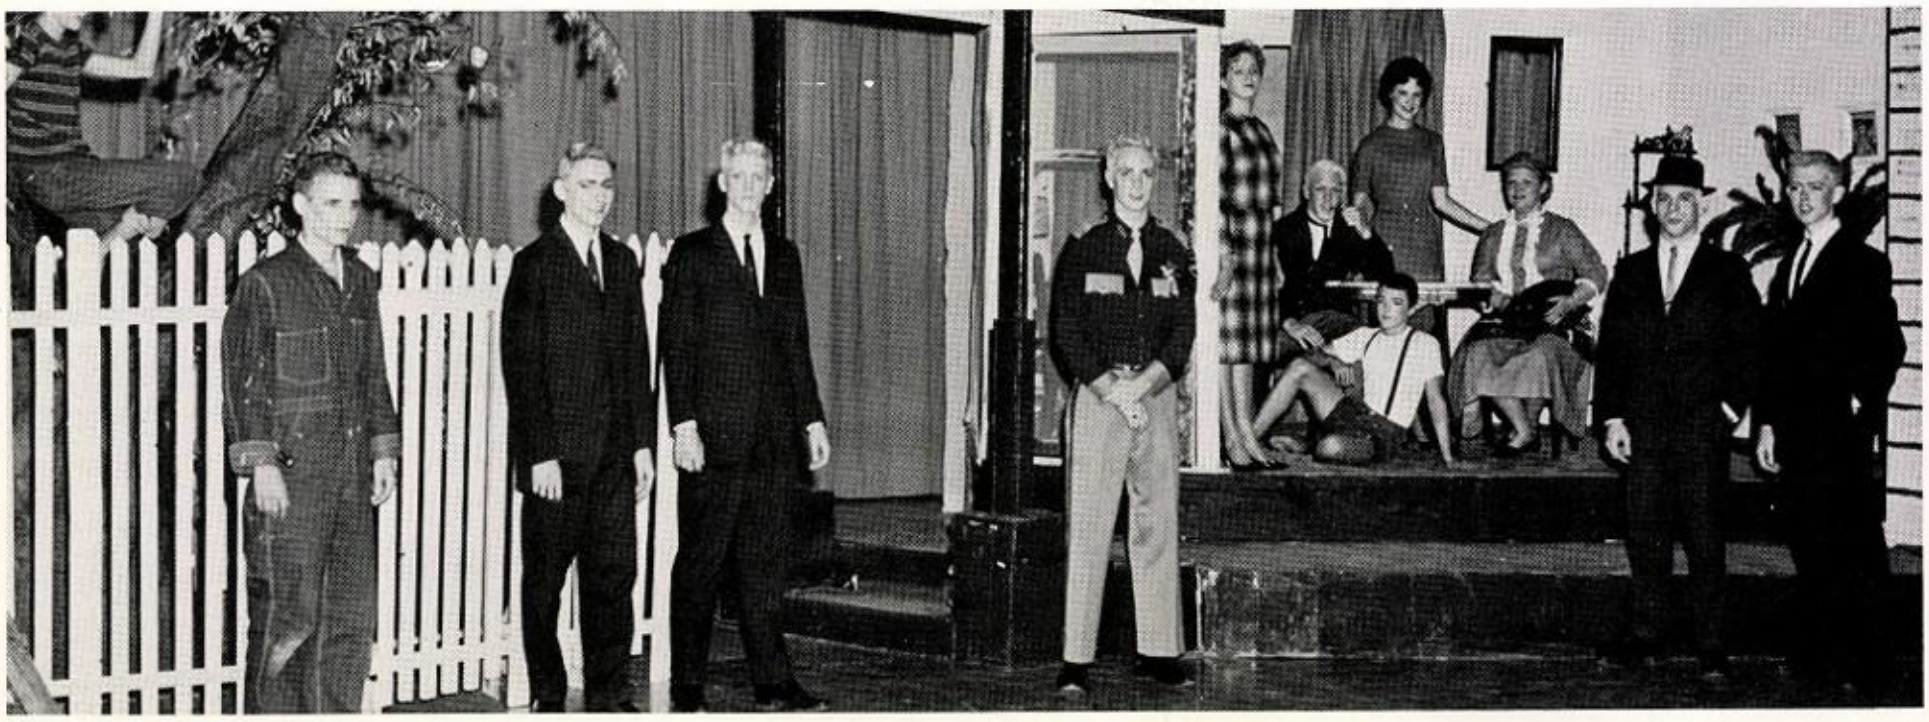
ON BORROWED TIME

"On Borrowed Time," a dramatic comedy about an old man's love for his grandson, was presented by the junior class November 16th and 17th. The leads were Mike Bohoskey in the role of Pud, Barry Curtis as Grandfather Julian, and Nick Cooper played Mr. Brink, a character representing death. Also featured were Kenna Thomas in the role of Nellie, Marcia Paine as Demetria Riffle, Diane Blondin as Marcia Giles; Dennis Cole portrayed Dr. Evans; Russ Barron played Mr. Pilebeam; Jerry Duff as Mr. Grimes; Phil Fossum, "the boy," and James Wight completed the cast as "the workman."

Grandmother, played by Kenna Thomas, and Aunt Demetria Riffle, by Marcia Paine, discussed Pud.

Pud, co-star of the story, enjoyed a pleasant talk with his grandfather, who played opposite him.

The cast gathered for the final curtain call.



H.M.S. PINAFORE

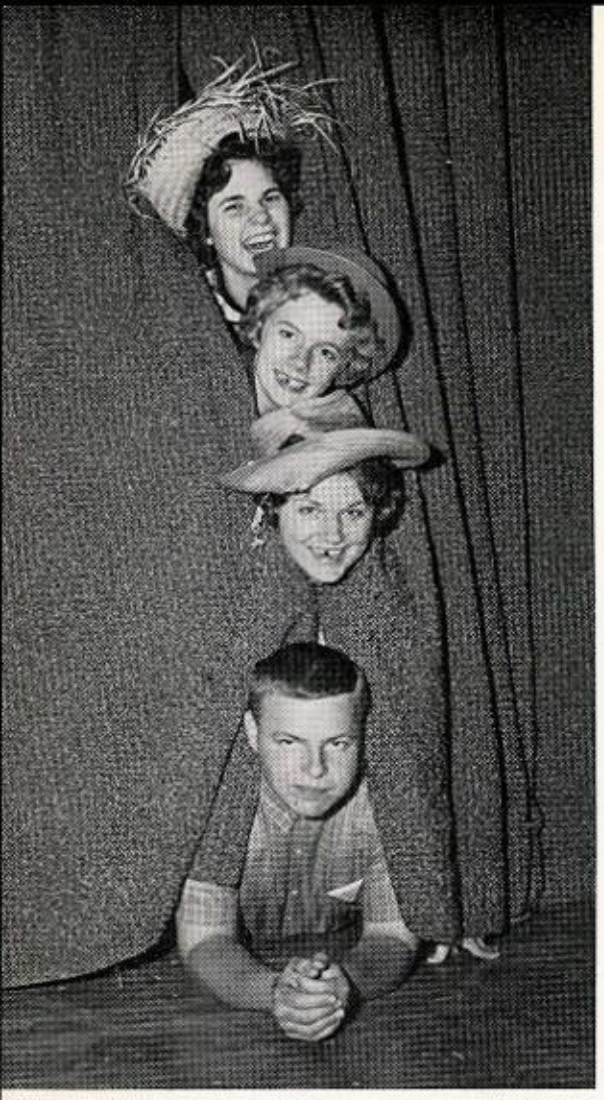
"H. M. S. Pinafore," a satire of Victoria's navy, was presented by the sophomore class May 17th.

The stars were Warren Wascher as Sir Joseph Proctor, "admiral of the Queen's navy," Tim Jochim as Captain Corcoran, Rick Tobia in the part of Ralph Rackstraw, and Andrea Ritchey as Josephine. Kenna Thomas portrayed Little Buttercup. Linda Wellington was Cousin Hebe, and Barry Curtis played Dick Deadeye.

Tim Jochim and Kenna Thomas had a talk on the deck of the H.M.S. Pinafore.

The crew of the H.M.S. Pinafore stood at attention.

Warren Wascher pondered a problem as Rick Tobia, Andrea Ritchey, Kenna Thomas, and Tim Jochim considered the happiness of their plight.



Georgia Stone and Paula Redmond sang a vocal duet.

BROADWAY

IN RHYTHM . . .

was the theme chosen for the 1963 Ike Hilarities. Twenty acts in rapid succession exhibited a variety of talent in music, dance, and song.

IKE HILARITIES

Donna Borton, Nancy Hyndman, Marilyn Skidmore, and Larry Rockwell played the Idiots . . . here we are . . . backstage Dick Landis lends a helping hand . . . in formal pose . . .

Mood dancing was the theme of a modern routiine. Dancers were, left to right, Patti Murphy, Janine Pierce, Vicki Lewis, Sandy Naff, Trudy Hartley, and Cathy Campbell.

Kim Vandiver, Linda Frank, Barry Curtis, Andrea Ritchey, and Marcia Paine practiced for fall initiation of new Thespian members.

THESPIANS

Thespians is a national honorary organization opened to all students who have worked in the school's dramatic productions. Besides speaking parts in performances, members earned points toward initiation by working on costuming, staging, prompting, and make-up. The membership this year totaled 21, including members from all three classes.

Mrs. Mays, play director and the Thespian advisor, worked on make-up for the part of Mr. Brink, played by Nick Cooper in 'On Borrowed Time.''

Thespian officers clowned on stage: secretary Marcia Paine, president Russ Barron, and vice-president Andrea Ritchey.

Linda Frank drew on Dennis Cole's eyebrows.

Tri-M officers, left to right: Kenna Thomas, executive marshal; Andrea Ritchey, historian; Dennis Fluegge, president; Leon Frank, vice-president; Margo Stiltner, treasurer, and Lois Doak, secretary.

TRI-M

Tri-M, Eisenhower's music honorary, was established to recognize the outstanding achievements in choral, band, and orchestral work and was directed this year by Mr. Herbst, Mr. Boyer, and Mr. Graham.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll is the International High School Honor Society for Journalism. Members are selected from the staffs of the Five Star Journal and the Reveille. The basic requirement for membership is to have written 50 inches of printed copy. Eisenhower's chapter honored S. I. Anthon two years ago when it named its chapter after her. Miss Anthon, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Murphy are invited as honored guests to the annual initiation, which was held this year at the home of Lyndal Keith.

Advisors were Mrs. Edna Bailey for the Five Star Journal and Mrs. Florence Lippert for the Reveille.

Quill and Scroll officers, left to right: Lyndal Keith, treasurer; Martha Sebastian, ways and means chairman; Anne Hislop, secretary; Dave Sinclair, vice-president, and Lois McDonald, president.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society tapped a total of fifty students for membership this year in one fall and one spring assembly. This year's chapter was almost twice as large as Eisenhower's initial group in 1958. In addition to the two assemblies a spring picnic was held for members and guests. The profit from this function was donated to the foreign exchange student program.

Fifteen percent of each year's senior class is tapped into National Honor Society. At the spring assembly five percent is taken from each junior class, and the other ten percent is selected as seniors in two assemblies, one each semester. Each spring assembly thus involves tapping both juniors and seniors with the juniors providing the carryover each year.

The National Honor Society sets the minimum grade average at 3.0 to be eligible for initiation. After a student qualifies in this respect and if he is still in the top fifteen percent of his class, he is judged on the other three cardinal principles of the national organization . . . LEADERSHIP, SERVICE, AND CHARACTER.

ART GUILD

The purpose of the Art Guild is to help members become more aware of art in their school and daily lives. With membership open to all students, this club has met a long felt need by providing posters, bulletin board displays and advertisements for school events of general interest. The year's agenda included presenting the Washington State University traveling art show, helping to distribute American Education Week leaflets, and rotating student art work in the display case.

Officers were Tahna Samuelson, president; Ray Marshall, secretary; Linda Zarley, vice president. Pat Weber, treasurer, is not pictured.

USHERS

Nearly sixty girls participated in the busy schedule of the Ushers Club. Activities such as Open House, choral concerts, plays, debate tournaments, IKE Hilarities, Baccalaureate, and Commencement gave all girls interested a chance to participate. Head ushers were Sharon Eckhardt and Kathy Jenkins.

CAP AND GOWN

This group of junior girls was responsible for measuring all seniors for their graduation robes and for repairing, boxing, distributing, and checking in the gowns after ceremonies.

Cap and Gown members were Carol Niles, Ruth Theissen, Paula Prescott, Charlene Schafer, Sandra Bond, Suzanne Sargeant, June Howell, Rachel Ulrich, Anne Galbraith, Vicki Englund, Pat Carmody, and Pat Healey.

Officers Nancy Hyndman, president; Linda Atwood, secretary; Sandy Naff, treasurer, and Charlene Schafer, vice-president, left the school for a field trip.

MEDICAL CAREERS CLUB

One of the new clubs formed at Eisenhower in 1963 was the Medical Careers Club. This club's purpose was to give students interested in medical careers a chance to broaden their knowledge of the fields of medicine.

Besides the regular business meetings, several speakers, including doctors, physical therapists, laboratory technicians, and teachers, addressed the club. The members took field trips to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, the School of Nursing there, and the Selah children's hospital. The club had a point system through which members received club pins. Points were compiled by attending meetings, by helping in service groups, and by participating in field trips. The American Cancer Society, the Heart Association, and other similar organizations sponsored several films for the Medical Careers Club.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

This club, emphasizing friendship, fellowship, and unity among Eisenhower girls, is one of the school's active service clubs. Selling "mums," sponsoring a rummage sale, preparing Christmas baskets for needy families, sponsoring such activities as the Mid-Winter Formal, "Northern Lights," and the Mothers' Tea kept members busy. This year the Girls' League presented a useful gift of card tables to be used for special activities for the coming years.

Officers pictured were, SEATED: Bette Webster, secretary. STANDING: Sandy Phelps, treasurer; Sue Spaulding, vice-president, and Chris Hamper, president.

BOYS' FEDERATION

Composed of all the boys at Eisenhower, the Boys' Federation worked in conjunction with the Girls' League on many projects. These included the following: Christmas baskets for needy families; providing Christmas trees for the decoration of the school; and sponsoring the Mid-Winter Formal.

Officers Les LeRoss, president; Bill Raber, treasurer; Phil Souder, vice-president, and Bob Cardiff, secretary, procured Christmas trees for the school.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Formed during Eisenhower's first year, this club serves the purpose of bringing together students who are interested in promoting their understanding of national and international affairs. Programs included reports on the European and Mexican tours sponsored by American Heritage Association. The members participated in Model United Nations, sponsored a talk by a Yakima Valley College foreign exchange student, and made plans to financially aid the American Field Service program.

This year's officers, Marcia Paine, vice-president; Chris Lawson, president; Anne Hislop, program chairman, and Sue Kent, social chairman, looked over new social studies textbooks.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

Any student taking second-year Latin is eligible for initiation into the Junior Classical League. November 6th the newcomers joined the club at the annual slave auction. Other activities included a banquet and a picnic in the spring. JCL provided entertainment and culture in the Roman style for Eisenhower's Latin students.

Officers Margaret DeLateur, secretary; Kim Vandiver, vice-president, and Malcolm Ulrich, president, looked over the library's collection of books about Roman culture.

MODERN LANGUAGE CLUB

The Modern Language Club is composed of students who are studying or have studied French, Spanish, or German. This year the club sponsored the award-winning film "The Red Balloon," had a Christmas party with a pinata, helped start the American Field Service Program at Eisenhower, and finished their activities with an annual spring banquet.

Officers pictured in the language laboratory were: Joanne Hansen, Spanish secretary; Roxanne Rice, French president; Janet Salisbury, French secretary; Kim Vandiver, German president; Jeanie Haslet, MLC vice-president; Stefani Fletcher, German secretary; Diane Davies, German vice-president; Vicki Lewis, MLC secretary; Roger Eakin, Spanish president, and Richard Patterson, MLC president.

SPEECH AND DRAMA

Developing the student's ability to speak effectively in public is the primary purpose of Speech and Drama.

Presenting the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Veteran's Day assemblies, sponsoring IKE Hilarities, planning skits for pep assemblies, making up the members of the play cast, and participating in Student Report on KIMA radio were some of the activities to which this class contributed.

SPEECH AND DEBATE

The Speech and Debate class had a full schedule during the year, the debaters' main goal being to increase their abilities in the art of debate and public speaking. Members spent many hours on weekends, schooldays, and after school perfecting their arguments on the year's topic, "Reciprocal Free Trade," and participating in actual debates. Teams and individuals debated at Wenatchee, Columbia Basin Junior College, Pacific Lutheran University, Sunnyside, Moses Lake, the District Tournament, the University of Puget Sound, and the Individual Tournament in the spring. Also, there were a number of round-robin debates with other local schools.

The Archangel Gabriel appeared to Mary in the school Christmas program presented by the Speech and Drama Class. Marcia Paine was Gabriel and Jane Applegate was Mary.

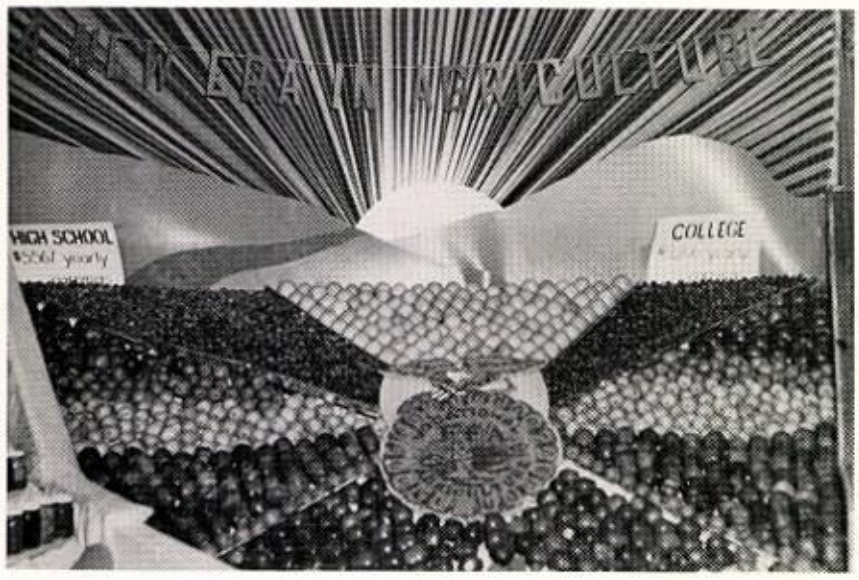
MATH CLUB

The Math Club, newly organized at the beginning of the year, provided interested mathematic students with a worthwhile organization for furthering their interests and knowledge in mathematics. The club viewed several films and enjoyed talks by local mathematicians. The members prepared papers, each doing research on a topic that interested him in particular, and presented their reports to the club. Meetings were frequently used for working problems that were especially rigorous and challenging.

Officers as pictured were: Mr. Fisher, advisor; Phil Kopp, vice-president; Tom Mathieu, president; Steve Werner, secretary, and Nancy Brown, treasurer.



FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

The Eisenhower chapter of FFA afforded future agriculturalists a chance to perfect their skills and learn new ones. One of the first activities of the year was hosting the West Valley FFA at an initiation followed by livestock judging at several fairs and apple judging at Chelan and Highland. Fall money raising projects included operating a booth at the Central Washington Fair, and furnishing a concession stand at the Ike-Pasco football game. During National FFA week, February 16-23, the club sponsored the annual Sweetheart Ball. Another project involved printing and distributing programs for the district basketball tournament.

FFA president Steve Hill earned a trip to Kansas City by being selected one of the three top livestock judges in Washington. He also won a local speaking contest, placed second in the sub-district, and entered the district competition.

Dan Olson, who won a calf at a scramble, showed his calf at Yakima and at Portland, where his animal placed first in its classification.

Officers who inspected apples were: Douglas Burrill, reporter; Gary Cramer, treasurer; Ray Breer, sentinel; Steve Hill, president; Hal Ehmer, vice-president; Bill Lunbom, historian, and Dan Olson, secretary.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Associated with the National Organization of Future Teachers of America, the main purpose of this club is to foster careers in teaching by helping members to better select the particular field in which they are interested.

This year's program included: Experience Week, during which senior FTA members taught a class in one of the grade schools, the Tea for Teachers given for the Wilson and Eisenhower faculty members, and the annual potluck dinner at the end of the year.

The slightly camera shy officers were: Andrea Richey, vice-president; Patti Cline, president; Karen Bergstrom, secretary; and Lyndal Keith, treasurer.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club was another of the new clubs formed during the year. This organization aimed to provide the science students at Eisenhower with an opportunity to further their knowledge in various fields of science. Most of the members were biology students. At the club's weekly meetings, members worked on their individual projects.

Officers were: Allen Jones, secretary; Steve Lambert, vice-president; Karen Holt, treasurer; Bruce Martin, president, and Mr. Jones, the advisor.

GALES, the Girls' Athletic League of Eisenhower, has been an active group this year. Officers were: Sherry Wood, treasurer; Sue Kent, president; Phyllis Wilcox, secretary; Judy Whitaker, social chairman; Bev Collings, intramural chairman, and Jo Martin, vice-president.

HONORS

This summer ten junior and two sophomore Eisenhower students had the privilege of participating in the American Heritage Youth Travel program. Left to right, Vicki Lewis, Pam Lynch and Carol Kocher toured the East Coast. Mary Williams, fifth from the left, went to Mexico, while Vicki Lugar, Anne Galbraith, Laurie Cowan and Jane Applegate spent fifty days in Western Europe. Not pictured are Kathy Nutley, Karen Rice and Marilyn Beam who also toured the East.

The five finalists in the Temperance theme contest sponsored by the Iota Sigma Chapter of the WCTU, left to right, were Russ Barron, Nick Cooper, Pat Healey, Bill Eyman and Charles Stiles. Bill Eyman was judged first place winner with $25; Nick Cooper, second place with $15, and Charles Stiles, third place with $10.

Cindy Rider, left, won first place in the 11th and 12th grade division of the Eagles Spelling Bee, and Rhio Hove, not pictured, won third place. Lynne Shaeffer, right, placed first in the 9th and 10th grade division.

Nancy Hyndman served at the punch bowl.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1962 varsity football season was highlighted by our 26 to 7 win over Davis. Completing the season with a 5 win 3 loss record, Eisenhower emerged with the Northern League Championship.

Cadets nominated for the Northern All-Stars were: quarterback Bob Gilmore, halfback Mark Glaspey, fullback Barry Schoengarth, tackle Dennis Chambreau, and center Dan Litzenberger. Named to Big Seven second team berths were tackle Dennis Chambreau and halfback Mark Glaspey.

Paul Adams, who last year was nominated Big Seven fullback was eliminated from competition due to injuries.

According to Coach Farnam, the 1963 Eisenhower basketball team was one of the best-balanced teams in our school's history, and this made it possible for Coach Farnam to use a two-platoon attack most of the season. The season's highlight was a last second double overtime victory over arch rival Davis. Stu Weber's 20 foot jump shot from the head of the key broke the tie in the last seconds of the second overtime to give Eisenhower the narrow victory.

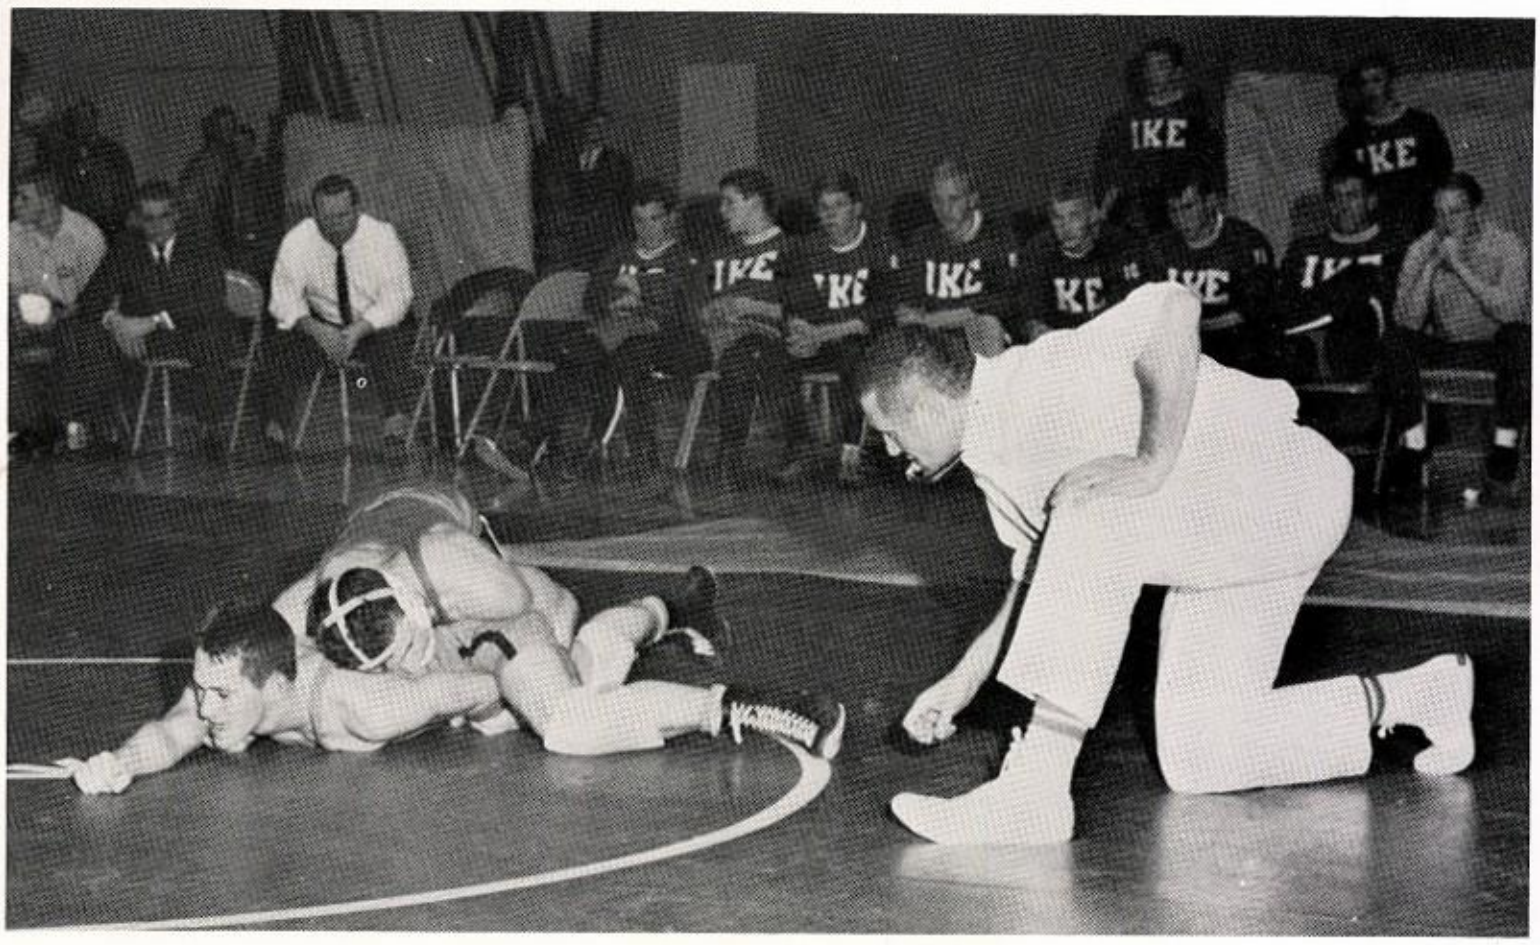
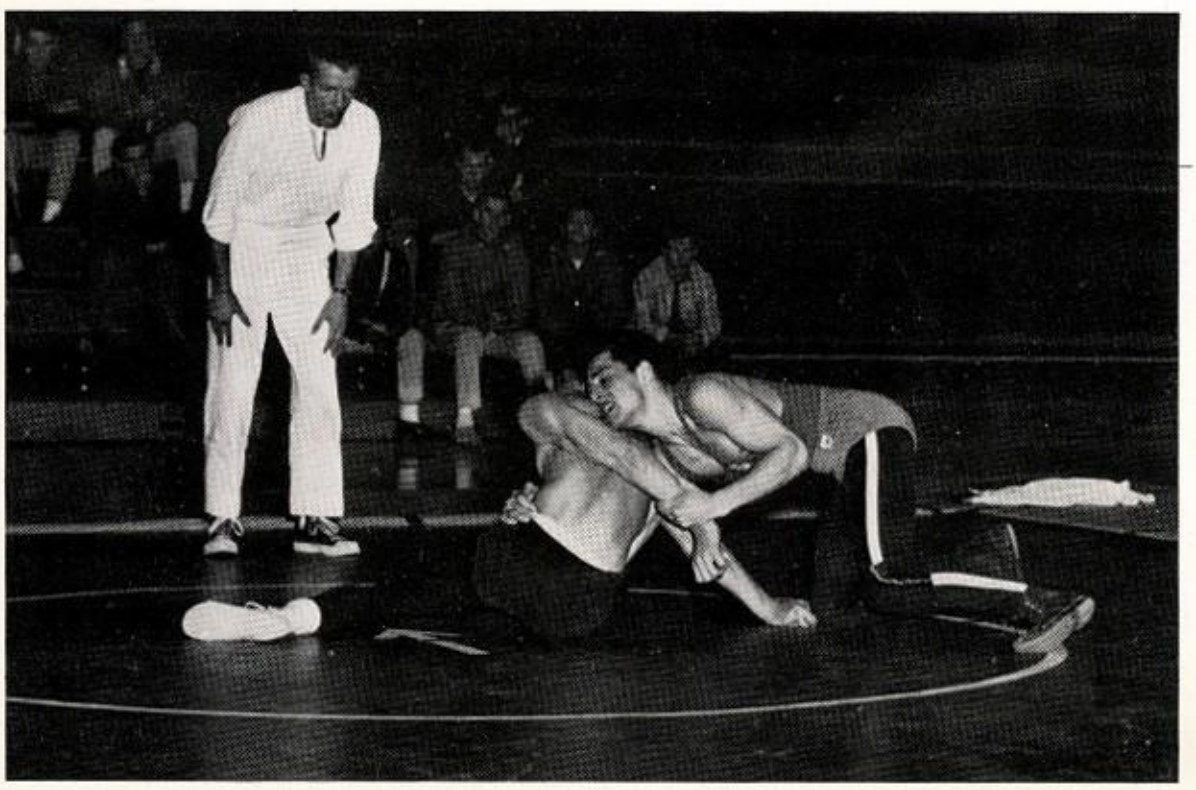
VARSITY WRESTLING

The 1963 Wrestling squad completed another successful season this year compiling a 9 win-3 loss 1-tie record. The Cadet grapplers defeated Naches (twice), Sunnyside, Wapato, West Valley (twice), Toppenish, Zillah, and Highland. They lost to Mt. Vernon, Moses Lake (twice), and tied with Davis. Twelve wrestlers went to district competition and five went from this to the state tournament. Jeff Giard took first place in his weight class. Ike's other state wrestlers were Ron Maxey, Stuart McPherson, Paul Adams and Lloyd Megenity.

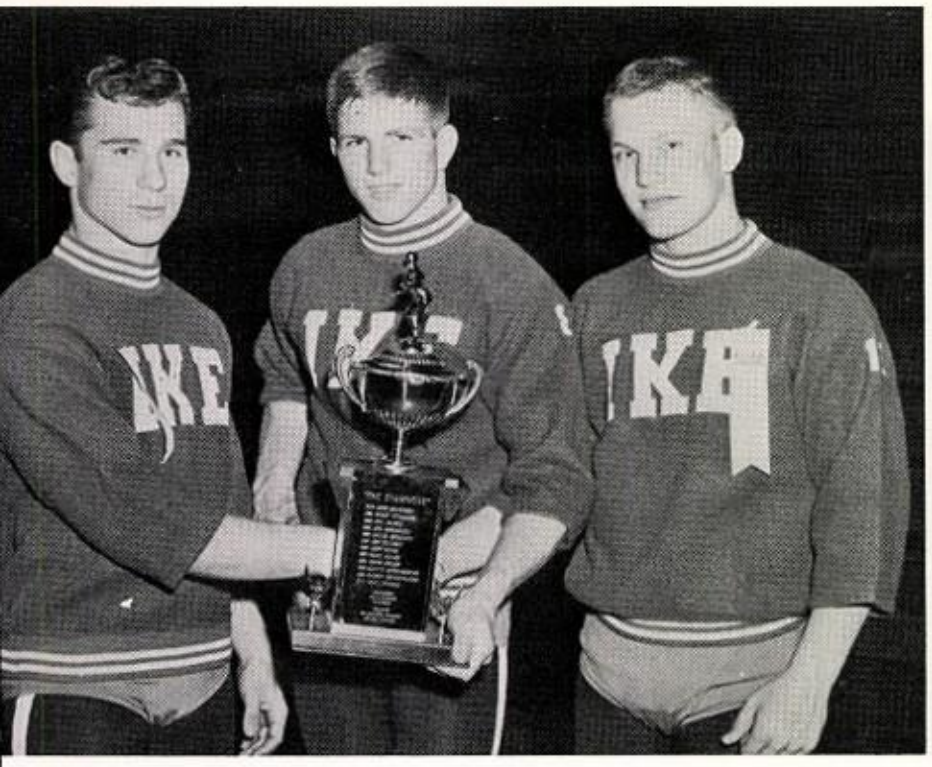
Jeff Giard, wrestling in the 148 pound division, became Eisenhower's first state champion.



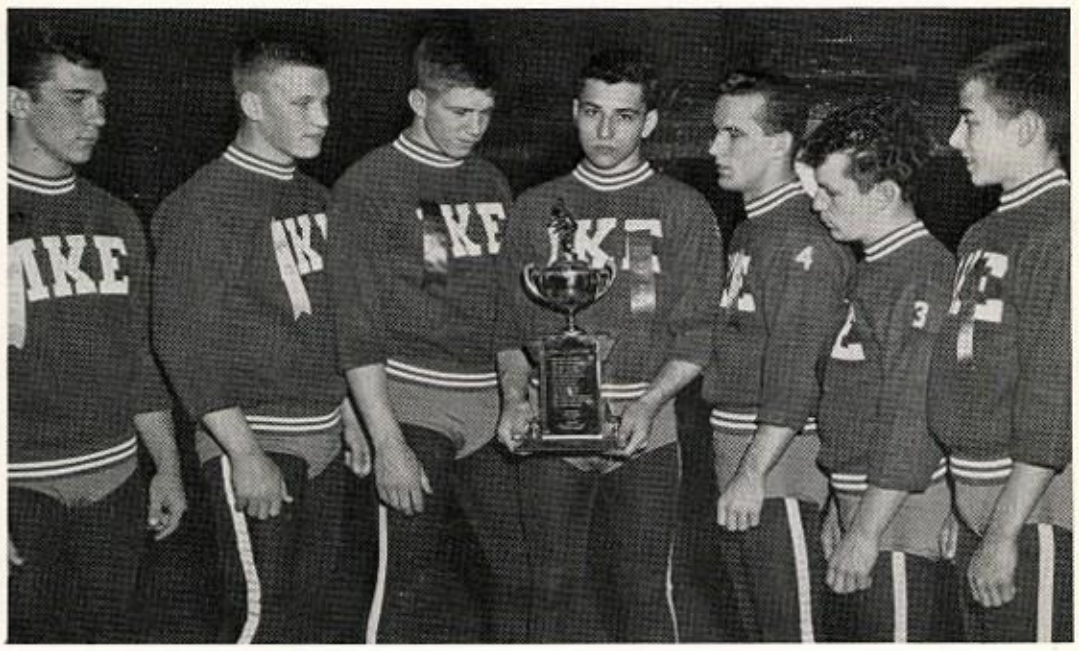
Stu McPherson of Eisenhower had Richard Hausken of Davis in a rough spot during their 130-pound match. McPherson went on to score a 3-0 decision, but the two teams fought to a 19-19 draw.



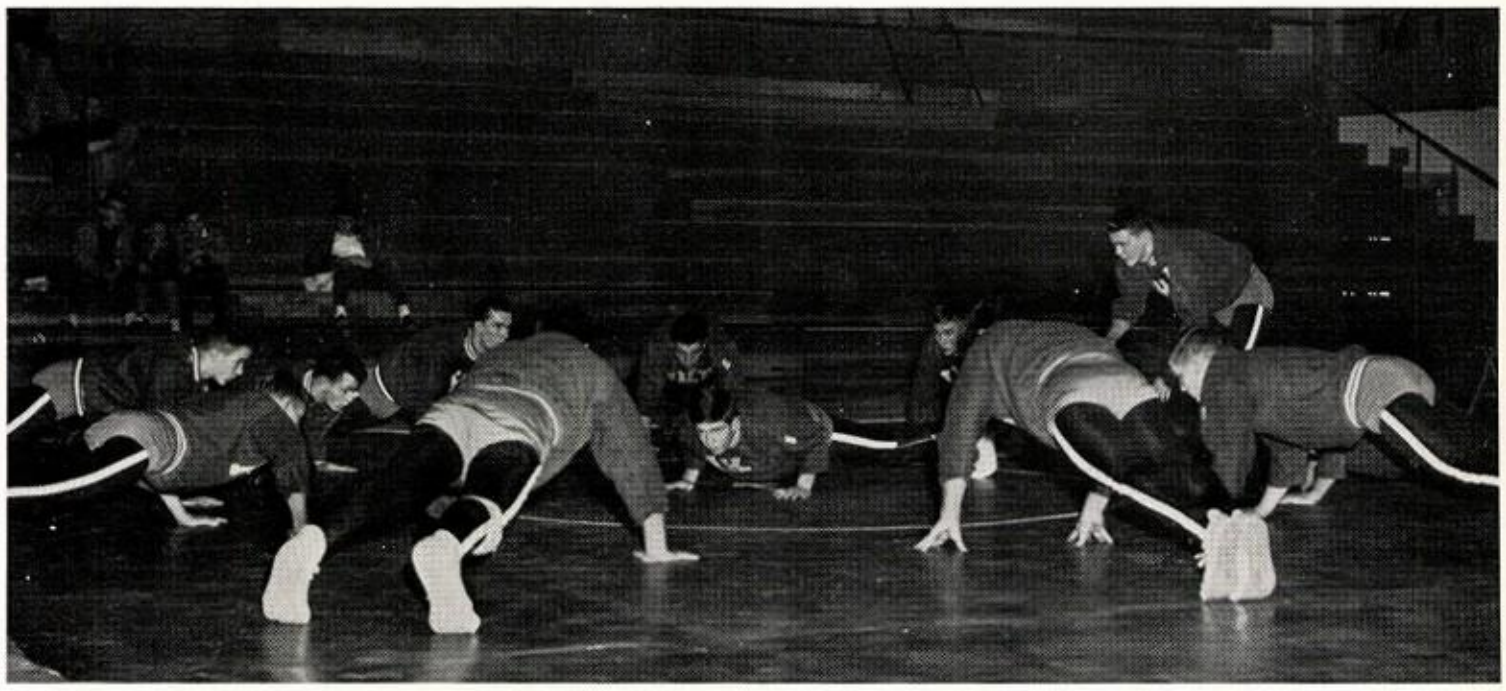
Lloyd Megenity displayed the intense action which was prevalent throughout the 1963 wrestling season.



Senior competitors were Barry Schoengarth, Paul Adams and Dan Litzenberger.



Outstanding district wrestlers included Barry Schoengarth, Dan Litzenberger, Paul Adams, Lloyd Megenity, Stuart McPherson, Ron Maxey and Curtis Stoddard.



The Cadets performed pre-match exercises in the Eisenhower gym.

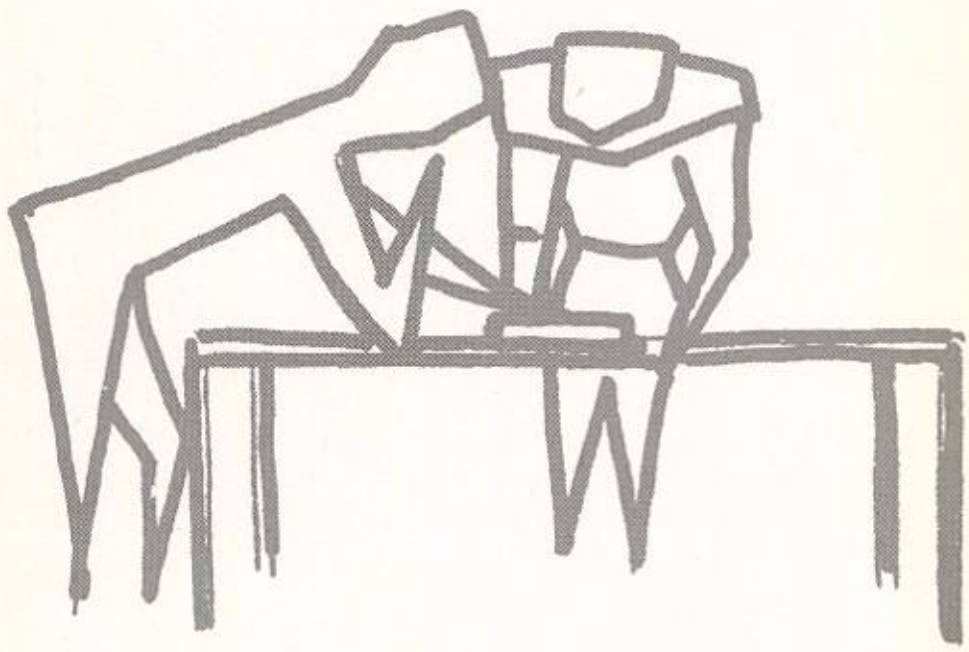
ADMINISTRATION



MILTON MARTIN
Superintendent of Schools

ADMINISTRAT

Message from the Superintendent:

Student life has taken on a new look in order to meet the demands of our changing society. The student today to be truly prepared must have a combination of tough discipline, strenuous physical exercise and good scholarship. Sports, school activities and the pursuit of academics now require the successful student to operate at his full potential. No longer can he afford to run at less than full capacity. Competition is rugged in every area of endeavor. Knowledge is doubling in every decade. Studies are more difficult. College level courses are being offered in high school, and content formerly taught in high school is being moved to the elementary school. The good athlete or student leader must be intelligent and willing to work hard.

We hope that all students will be cognizant of the competitive society in which they live, and that during these years they develop an enduring interest in the truly important as well as the self-dicipline and self-direction necessary to keep on learning throughout life.

M. L. Martin
Superintendent of Schools

Grouped around the desk in the main office are our three secretaries: Joy McGahan, Records Clerk, Secretary to the counselors; Betty Layfield, Principal's Secretary; and Virginia Shuford, Assistant Principal's Secretary.

The School Board members, pictured during one of their regular business meetings, are, left to right: Robert Klavano, assistant superintendent; Rolla Goold, assistant superintendent; Roy Brown, board member; Dr. Rex McClure, president of the board; Mrs. George Hislop, board member; Paul Goode, board member; Arthur Church, secretary; Earl Klapstein, president of Yakima Valley College, and Robert McKinney, vice-president of Yakima Valley College.

Student life at Eisenhower High School reflects myriad examples of successful and happy students. Their characteristics are similar. They take school life seriously. They take pride in their daily work. They look upon learning as an exciting and rewarding experience. They recognize the classroom as an area where they receive stimulation for further research and are intent upon gaining additional knowledge.

Most of our students also find time to serve their school and community. They have discovered that the motto "service above self" practically applied brings joy and happiness to others, in addition to self-development. The excellent work of our Reveille Staff and their advisor is typical of one aspect of our student life.

I am constantly stimulated by and appreciative of the character and quality of our Eisenhower students.

TO HAROLD J. THOMAS
WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK

IN MEMORIAM

The beginning of the school year was saddened by the death of Mr. Harold J. "Tommy" Thomas, our band master and friend. We are all aware of many contributions made by Mr. Thomas to our school and community through our band and of his unceasing effort to make every performance the best. To Mr. Thomas music was more than just a vocation; it was his life. His philosophy might well be expressed in these lines.

Music has moments of rapturous sound
And intervals of rest,
It thrills the heart with its majesty
And soothes it when suppressed.

Life too has ringing, throbbing tones
And muted, silent keys,
Yet both are merged at the Master's touch
Into living symphonies.

Florence Emeline Wright

COOKS . . .

NURSE . . .

CUSTODIANS . . .

They served us well the whole year through; Our thanks to them for all they do. Our smiing cooks, left to right: Eva Sliman, Roberta Allen, Alice Austin, Pearl Haas, Elise Jensen.

Our nurse, Mrs. Kerr, administered to all student health needs. She is pictured working in her office.

Ron Siegele is a familiar sight to all students as he goes about his ground duties.

Our custodians worked around the clock to care for our buildings. ROW 1: Byron Coffey, Roy Zerr. ROW 2: Herman Hansen, Paul Pratt, Charles West, Ron Ewald. ROW 3: Cecil McCabe.

Sylvia Davidson, treasurer of the junior class, and Vicki Lewis, vice-president, were pleased with the sale of tickets for the fall play, sponsored by their class.

Rick Pinnell, junior class president, enjoyed his moments of dictating to Janine Pierce, secretary.

CLASS PROPHECY

We, as the prophecy committee of the Class of '63, have before us a list of the probable vocations and avocations of our class in future years. As we look into the future, this is what we see:

Our famous baseball champs are now stars of the New York Yankees . . . class "D" farm club in Podunk, Alabama.

Steve Strosahl, punny man of the class, has turned to drama and is writing for Alfred Hitchcock.

Anne Hislop is still turning out annuals—this time for Playboy Magazine.

Valedictorian Lyndal Keith has become a physician—now she gets them coming and going.

Dennis Fluegge, a budding young lawyer, has replaced Edmond O'Brien as Sam Benedict.

Steve Hill has become a big business executive; now the closest he gets to the farm is counting sheep at night.

Barry Curtis is replacing Lawrence Welk as leader of his bubbling band.

Marcia Paine has become a Flamingo headliner show girl.

Stu Weber was just elected the Jack Armstrong of the Madison-Avenue-Rest-Home set.

Dave Sinclair is the protege of famous wrestling star Soldat Ghorkey.

Martha Sebastian returned home last week as the fashion dictator of New York, Philadelphia and Miami.

And listen to this—JoAnn LeCocq is the Playboy Playmate of the Year!

Larry Rockwell was elected by the Mafia as the friendliest FBI man in the nation.

Linda Davis, the darling of the dragsters in high school, has just become the first woman winner of the Indianapolis 500.

Bob Vogel, Five-Star Journal picture taker, has received a promotion—to head photographer at Playboy Magazine.

Terry Foulkes, who attended Pasadena Playhouse, can now be seen in most class "B" horror movies.

Bill Roe just insured his legs for $10,000 . . . say Bill, you and Bette Davis both, eh?

You'd better watch out for Bill Eyman; he's turned into a door-to-door Metrecal salesman.

Andrea Ritchey and Kenna Thomas are both singing in Europe—in the White Swan Pub in Lancaster, England.

Phil Souder has just been named head of the NOAM—the National Organization for the Advancement of Morals.

Yesterday Les LeRoss was seen picking up garbage behind Stockman's Cafe.

Sue kent is the manager of a leading chain of motels called the No-Tell Motels.

King McPherson is working with Ringling Brothers Circus — he's the gorilla.

Last but not least is the one member of our class who turned to literature—Dennis Hassell has written the best seller "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

As most of you have undoubtedly noticed, a large segment of the Class of '63 has become associated with Playboy Magazine. We feel that this typifies our class.

The Prophecy Committee
Nick Cooper
Lois Doak
Chris Lawson
Gretchen Von Pein

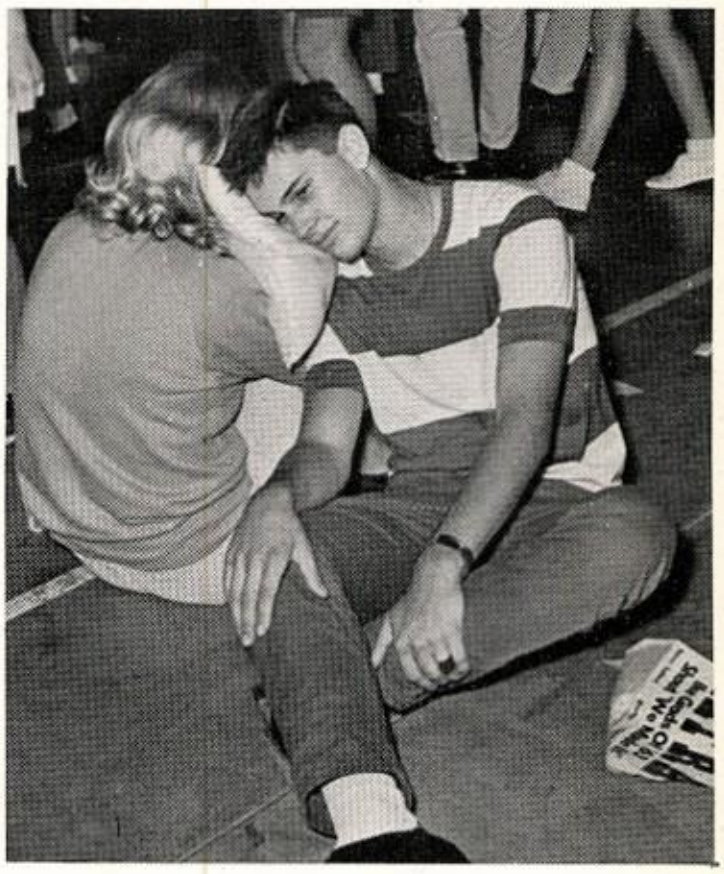
Anne Hislop wills her whip and budget meetings to Jeff Leigh.

Lois McDonald wills the senior section to Carol Niles and her picture schedule, photographer chasing, and people chasing to Mata Hudson.

Howard Wiese wills his "waugh . . ." and the grease pencils to the next sports editor.

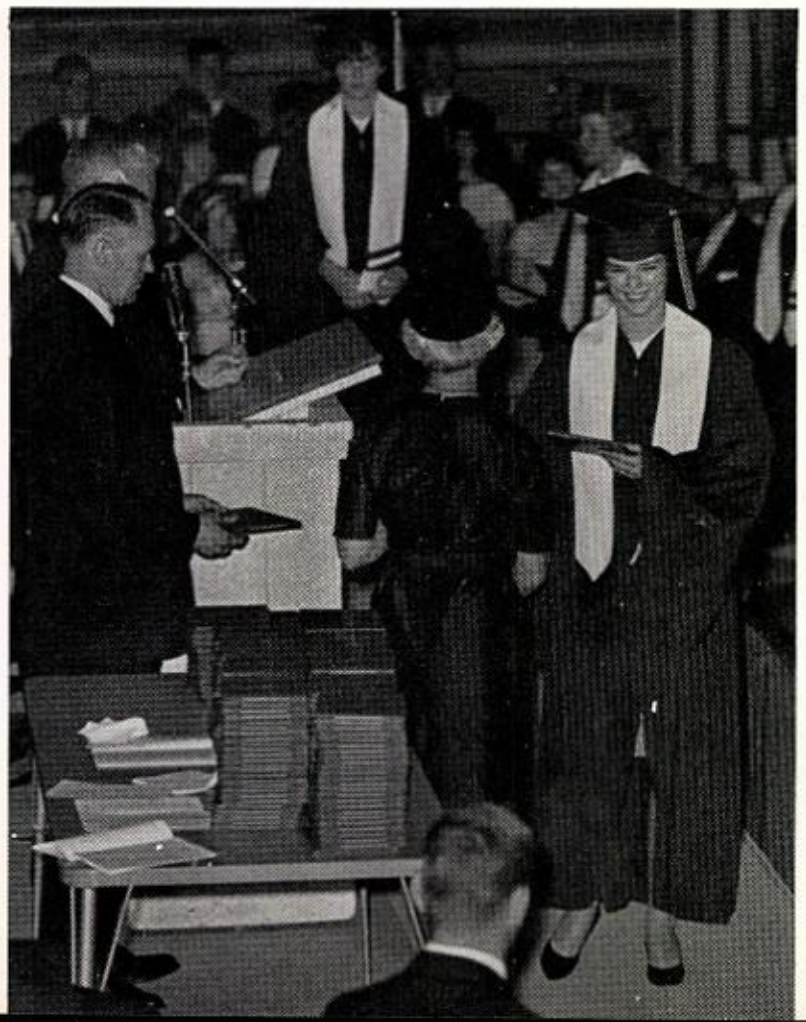
Bob Udell wills his pogo stick and his trips to Forest and Whitmire to Kathy Nutley.

Senior band members played in their last performance during commencement.



A normal reaction at 3 A.M. for Larry Klavano.

Diane Myers remembered to smile and say, "Thank you."



Malcolm Ulrich wills his copy and the Honor Society to the next person who sits in the corner.

Karen Pearson wills the card file to whoever can divide by three and alphabetize.

The senior staff members will Mrs. Lippert and the annual to Jeff and the juniors.

A quotable quote from the Eisenhower High School morning bulletin:

"There will be a meeting after school today for all sophomores and juniors interested in working on the senior assembly in room 152. The senior assembly is the story of the seniors from the cradle to their reunion. The meeting will be short."

As early morning 'Extras" of the Five-Star Journal flew, the class celebrated its freedom.

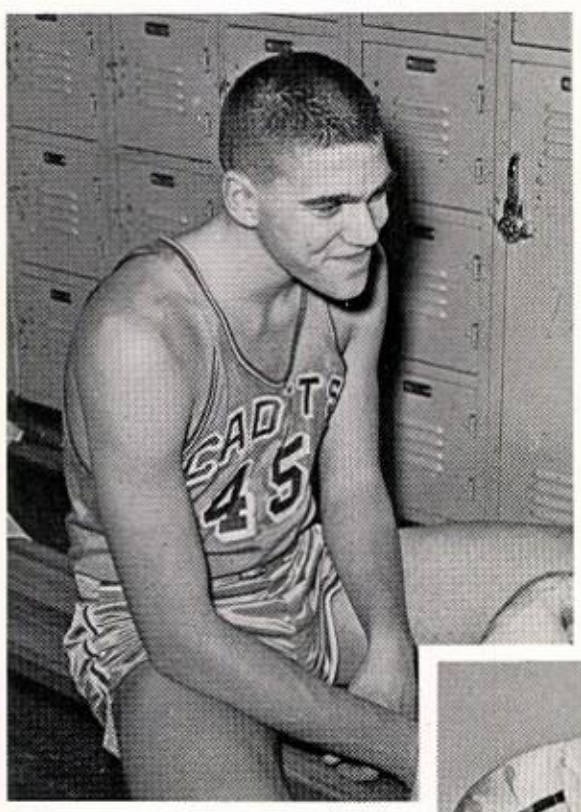
STUDENT LIFE . .

Our years in review.

In sports we threw passes . . . shot baskets . . . hit home runs.

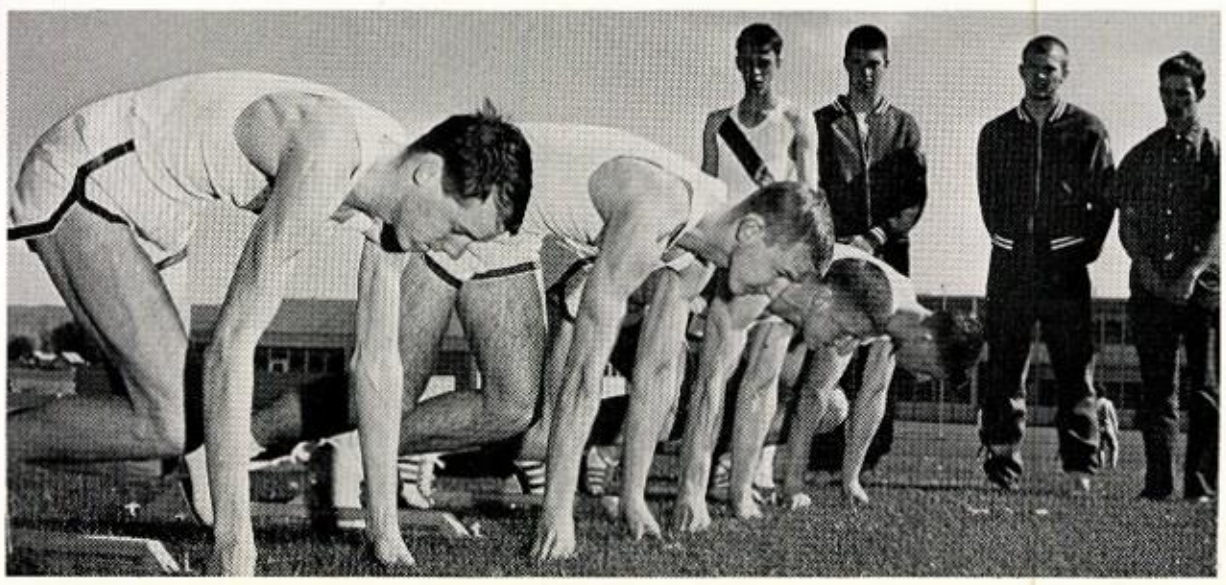
1962 . . . Shortstop Dan Dealy warms up with second baseman Tom Atwood.

1961 B Squad . . . With a championship in mind.



King McPherson, a familiar center on the '63 Varsity.

Our teams won championships and set new records.



. . . three times at state in as many years for star runner Bill Roe.

Many of us worked on plays . . .

Sophomore dance team in Connecticut Yankee . . .

Richard Patterson was Sakini in Teahouse of the August Moon.

Barry Curtis aged quickly in Connecticut Yankee.

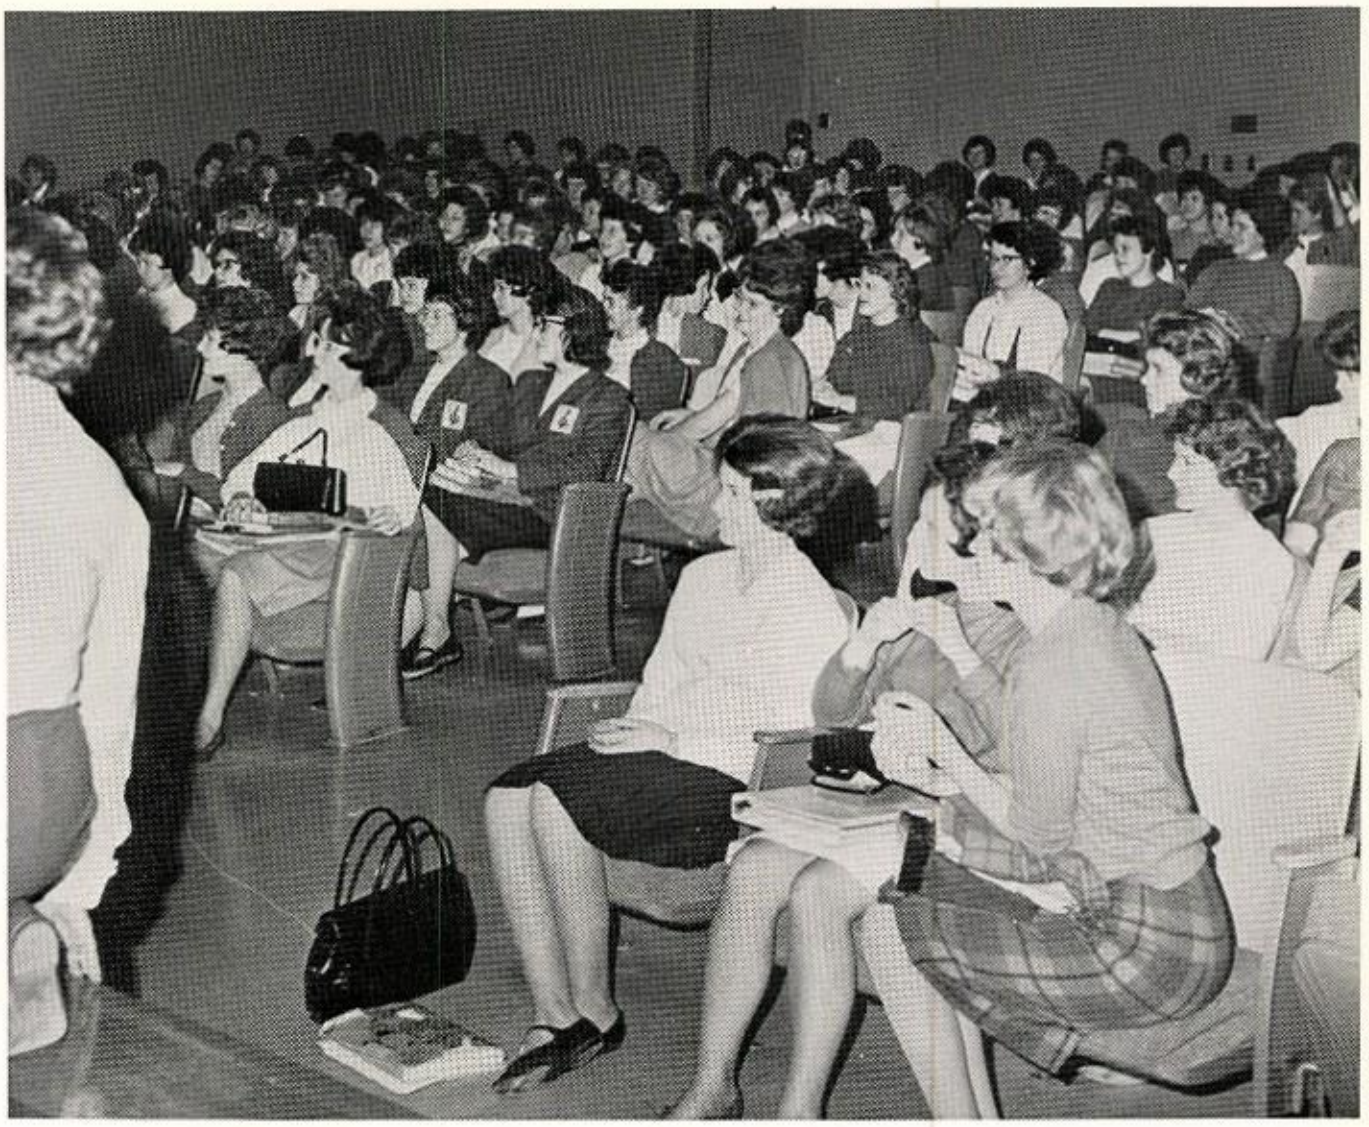
There was a lot of leg work in Cafe rue de la Paix, our 1962 IKE Hilarities.

IKE Hilarities . . . and

Kenna Thomas sang "Graduation" for three different Senior Assemblies.

Senior assembly.

We went to meetings . . .

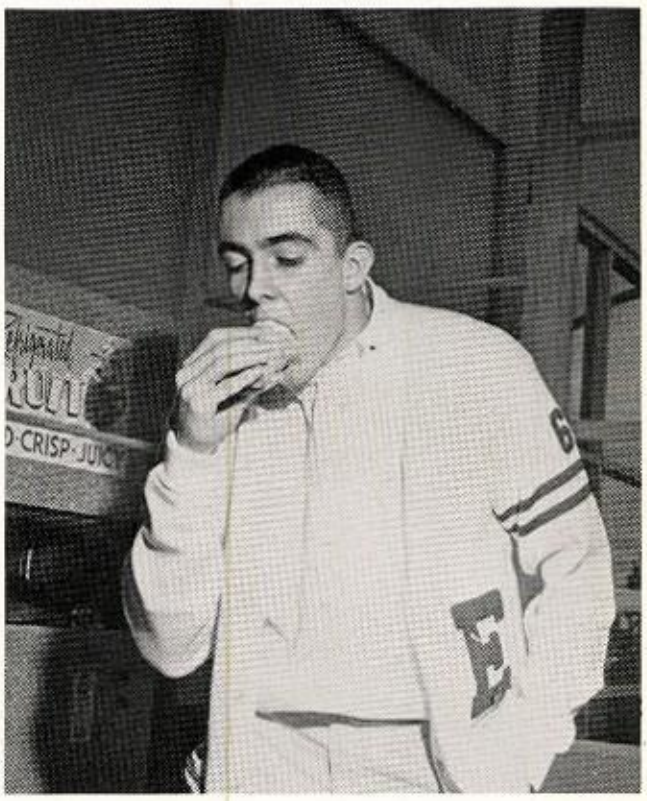


Something happening on the stage kept the attention of the Pep Club.

Worked on dances . . .

The Class of '63 put in innumerable hours working on the Junior-Senior Prom in '62.

Patti Cline and other class members put in long hours studying and working on projects.



Dave Sinclair ranked eating as one of his favorite occupations.

Ate frequently . . . and sometimes even studied.
And through these years
we have discovered that
"There is a destiny that makes us brothers,
none goes his way alone.
All that we send out into the lives of others comes back into our own."

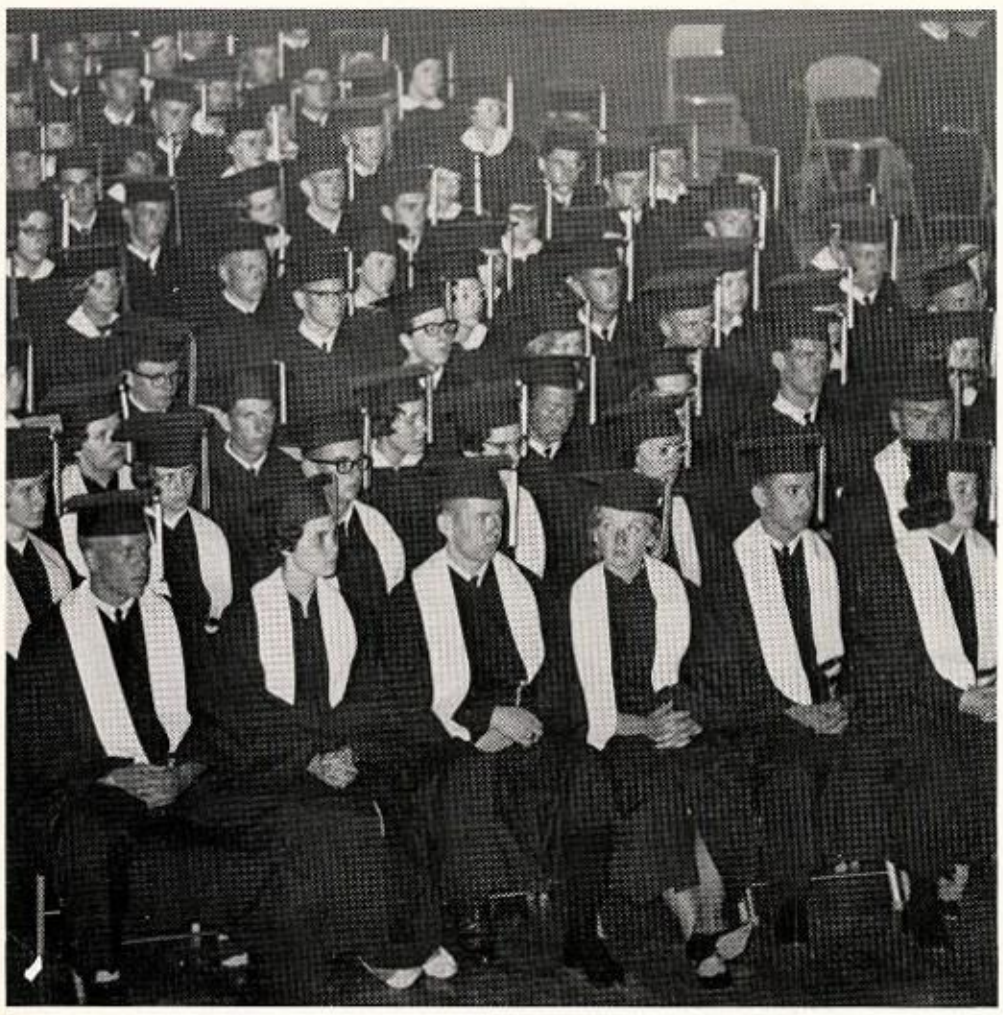
SENIOR WEEK . . .

Started with the assembly . . . followed by a luncheon at the Country Club . . . the girls looked beautiful, the food was superb, and even the chef had a good time.

THE ALL-NIGHT PARTY

Graduation was over . . . the once in a life time celebration was a blast from eleven to sun up . . . breakfast and our week of weeks was over.

BACCALAUREATE

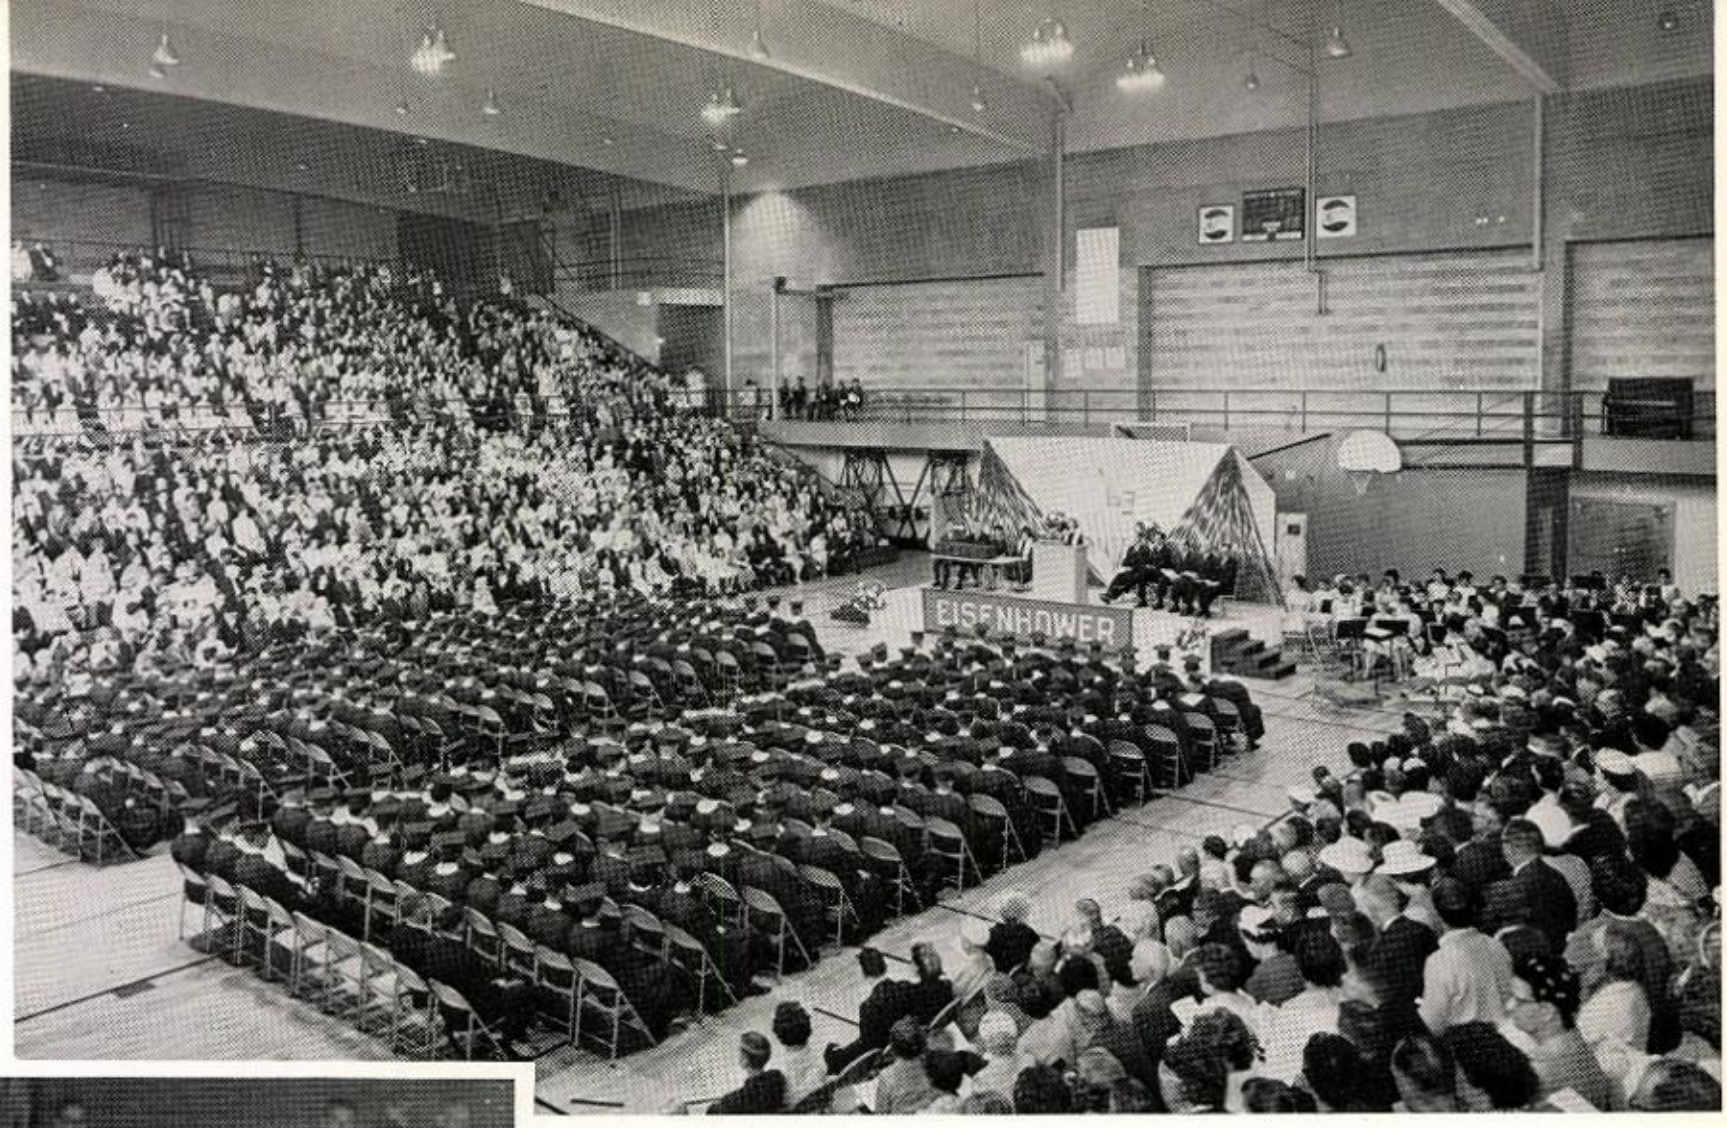


Grave Seniors listened to the Baccalaureate address.

Reverend Albert C. Baker spent his last Sunday afternoon in speaking for the seniors.

YAKIMA

Congratulations!

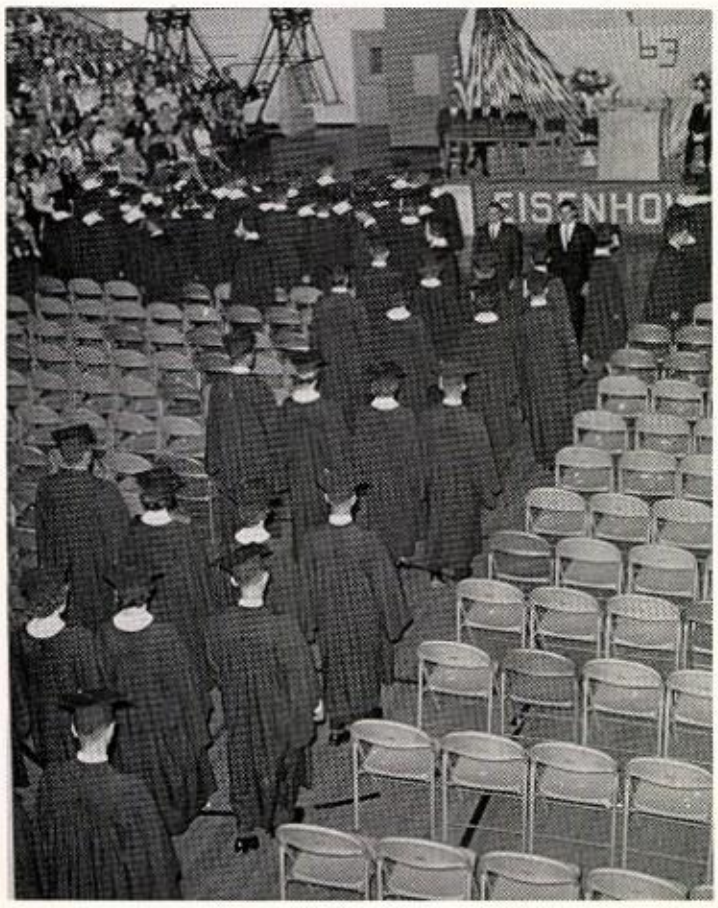


The Class of 1963

COMMENCEMENT

Mr. Zylstra, chosen as speaker by the seniors, added humor to his impressive speech entitled "The Double Highway," for which the class gave him a standing ovation.

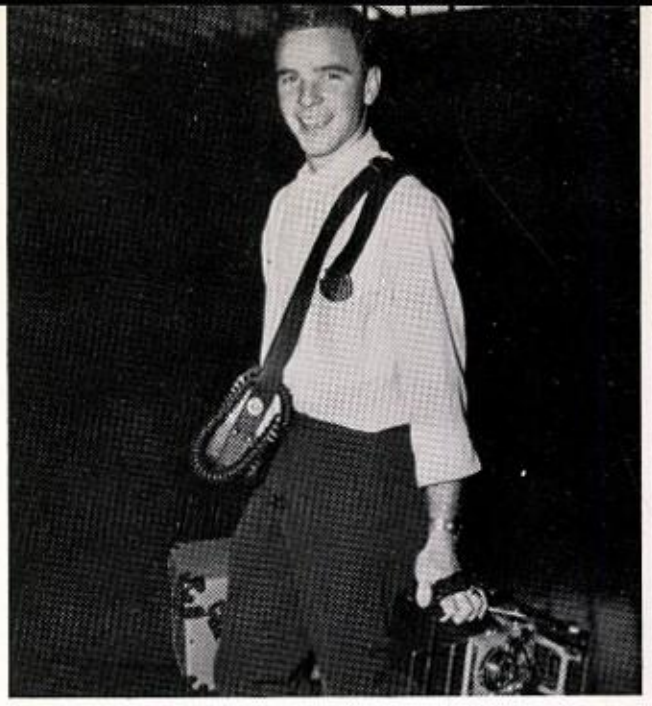
After Commencement the seniors turned in their caps and gowns and received their diplomas.



The senior class filed to their Commencement ceremony before a near-capacity audience.

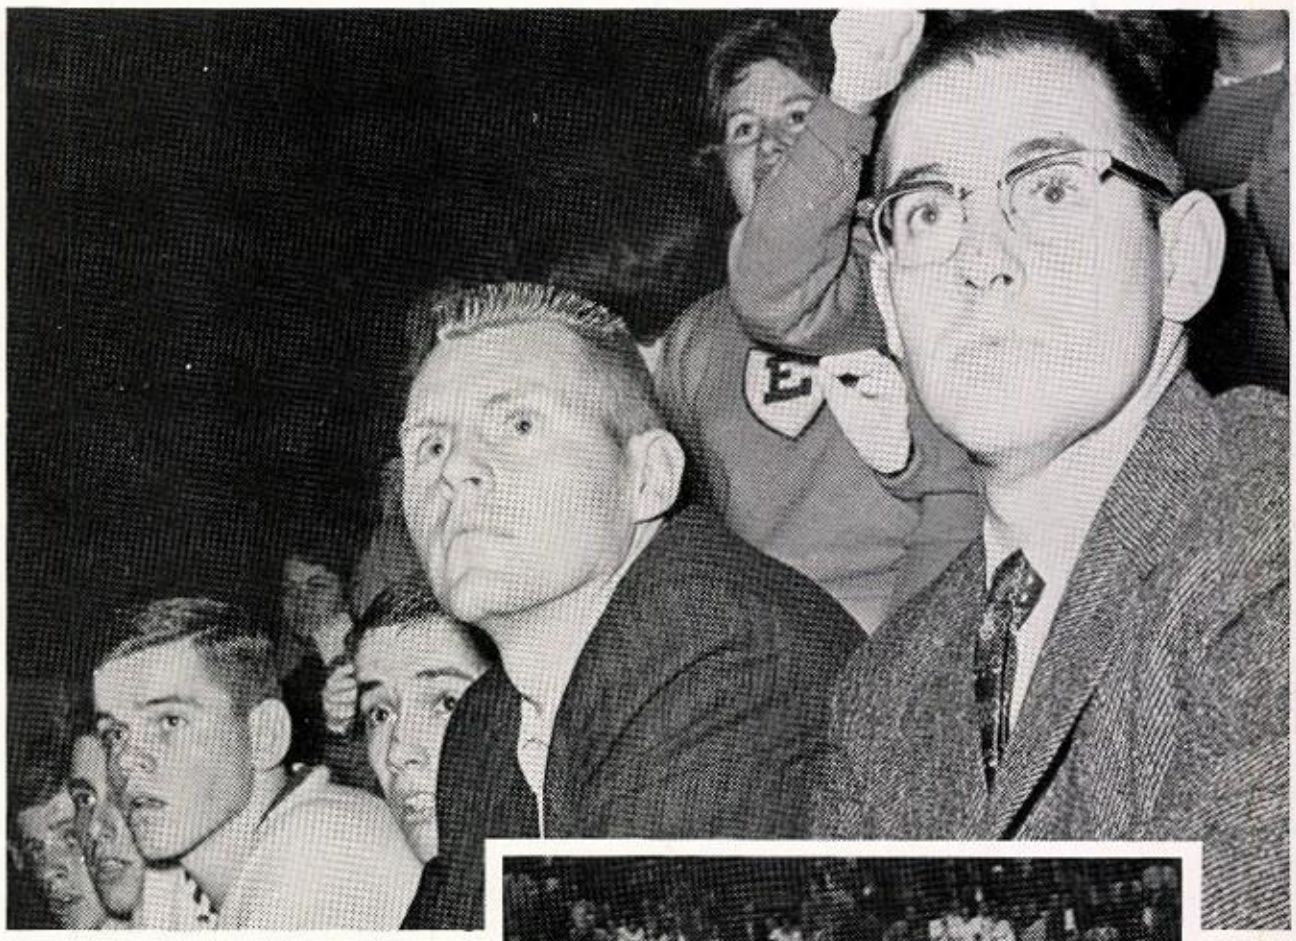
TALE ENDS

"Oh, you think so?"



Camera man Bob Udell was loaded down all year with equipment and requests for just one more shot for that page.

The Eisenhower faculty played the Davis faculty in an exhibition game to raise money for American Field Service, the foreign student program. Eisenhower team members warming up are, from left to right, Bill Hughes, Keith Cabe, Murray Anderson, and Swede Lindquist.



The coaches, the team and the fans all had tense moments during our basketball games.

Happy Cadet fans surged onto the court after defeating Davis in a double overtime.

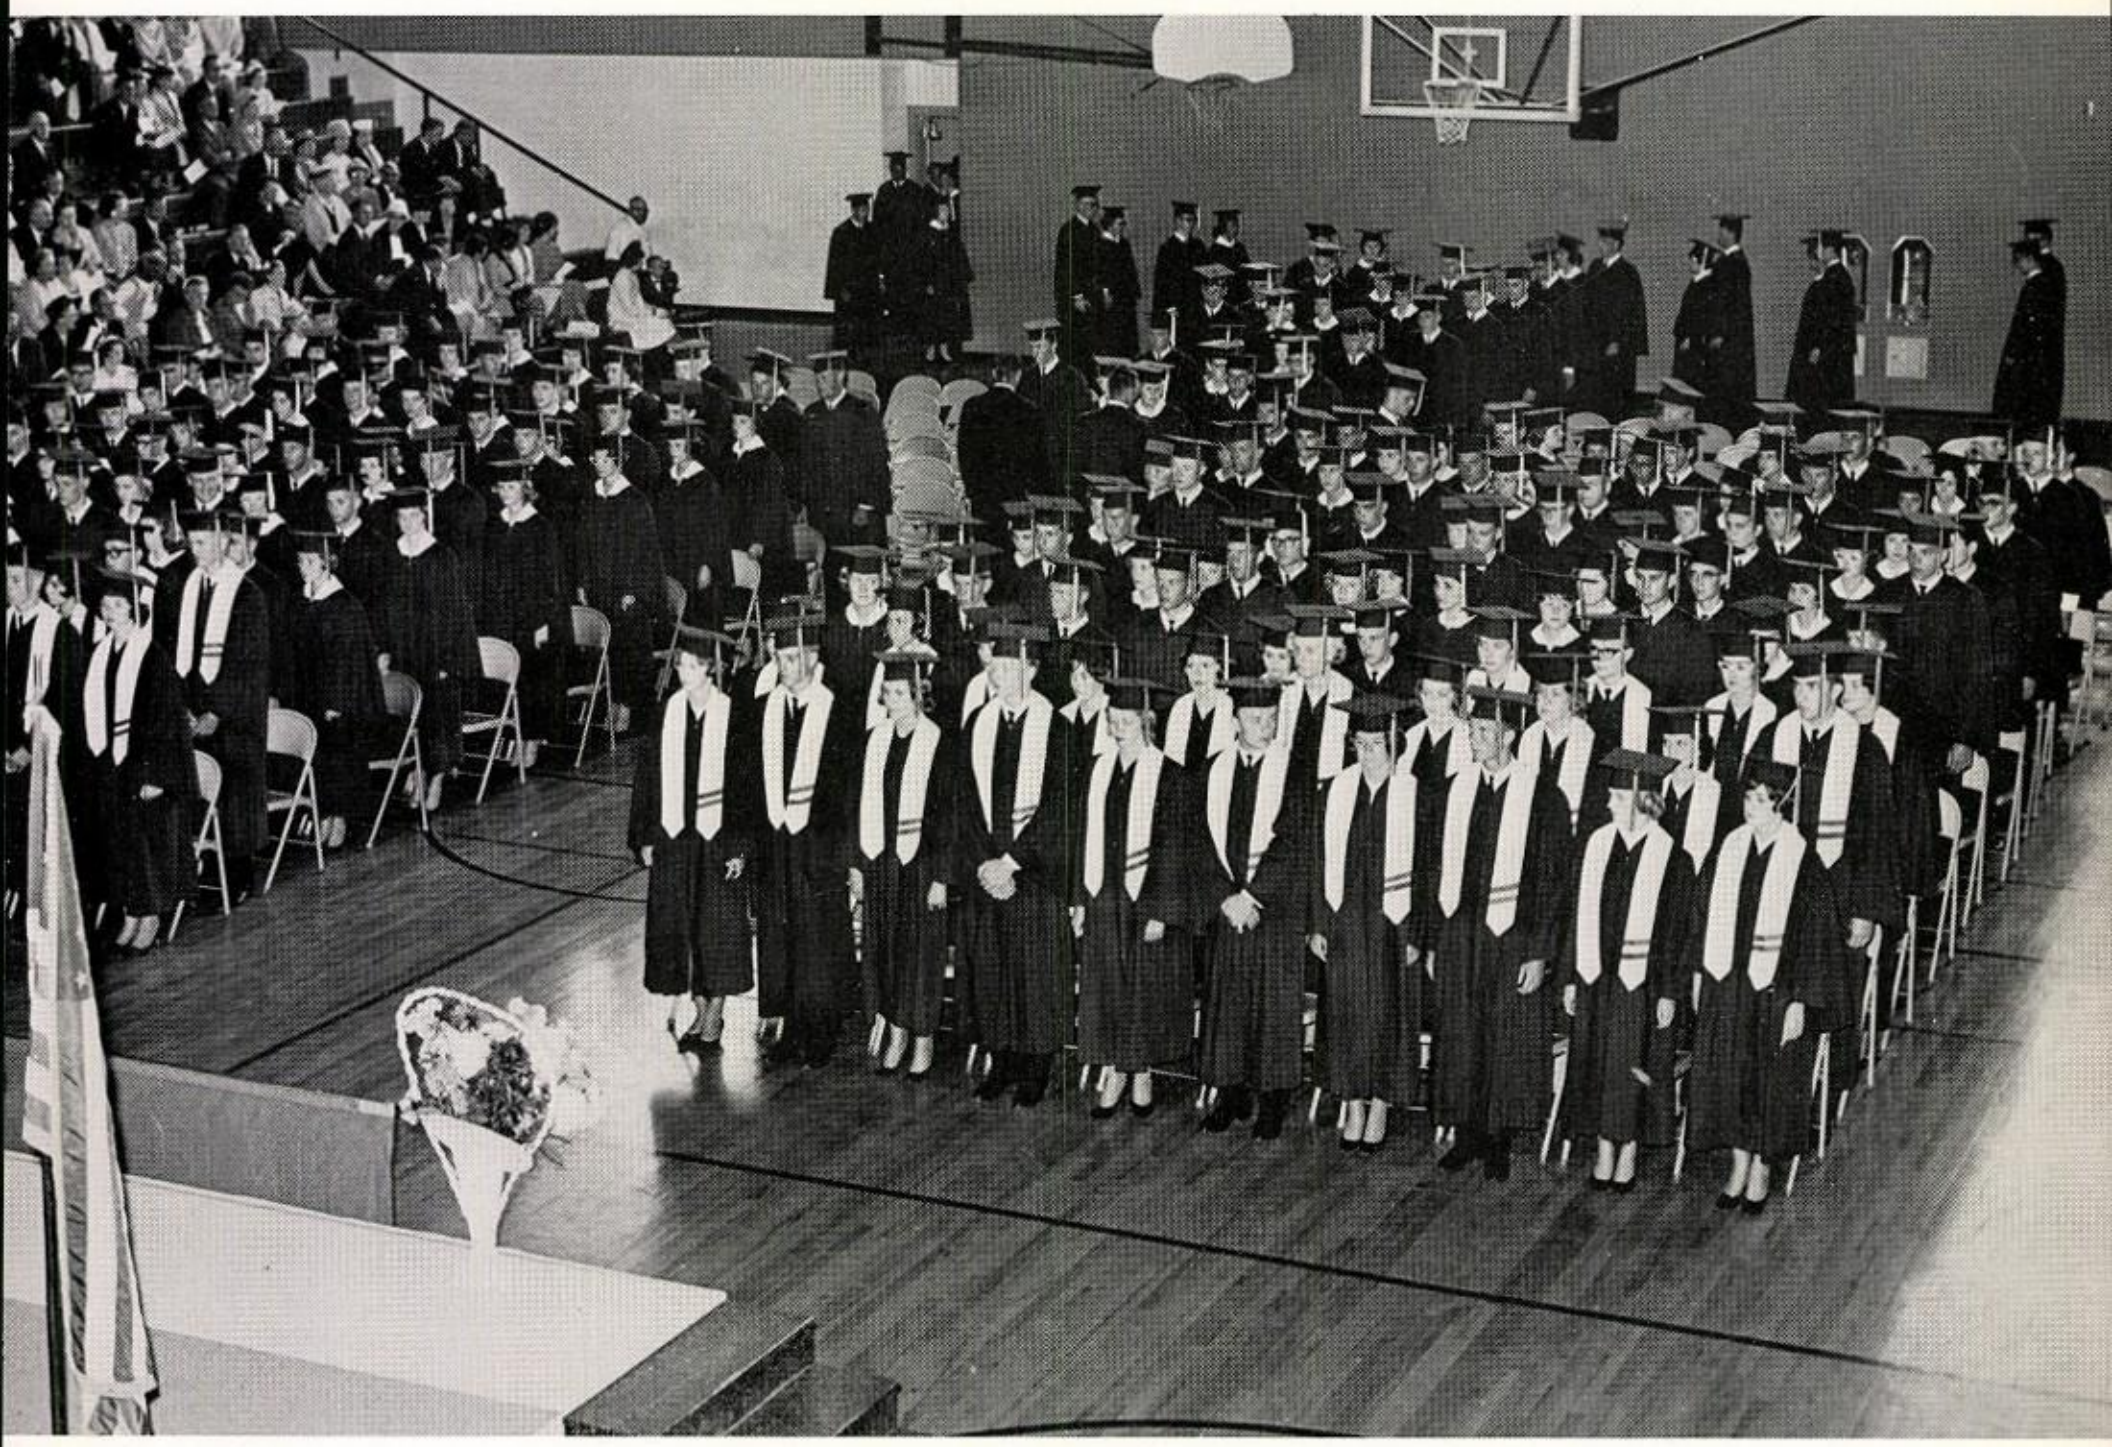
Our Year Ends . . .

The events in the life of a student at Eisenhower this year were numerous: the many athletic victories and championships in local, district and state competition . . . the full-of-fun-and-learning field trips in science, mathematics, debate, agriculture and history . . . the academic experiences and competition . . . the assemblies and speeches . . . the dedication of the Yakima Valley Stadium built on the Eisenhower campus . . . the annual Junior-Senior Prom . . . the continued stress on scholarship . . . National Merit tests . . . honor rolls and honor society tappings. These events played a big part in the lives and development of the Eisenhower Cadet. However, most of the seniors who have participated in STUDENT LIFE are now going into an adult world: college . . . jobs . . . the armed services . . . marriage . . . a new attitude toward life . . . new positions of responsibility and challenge. Occupied with these new experiences, the former student may soon forget his high school days, but his fondest memories of STUDENT LIFE at Eisenhower will be easily recalled . . . by glancing through this book . . . the 1963 REVEILLE.



As seniors formed the processional for Commencement, the Class of 1963, as a whole, came together for the last time.

We would like to express our sincere appreciation to the following individuals and firms who have assisted us in the production of this book.
